section of the book focuses on history in the pre European contact period documenting the tens of thousands of years that American Indians have resided on the continent in ancient civilizations in contrast with the very short history of a few hundred years following contact with Europeans during which time tremendous changes to American Indian culture occurred The event coverage continues chronologically addressing the early Colonial period and beginning of trade with Europeans and the consequential destruction of native economies to the period of Western expansion and Indian removal in the 1800s to events of forced assimilation and later self determination in the 20th century and beyond Readers will appreciate how American Indians continue to live rich cultural social and religious lives thanks to the activism of communities organizations and individuals and perceive how their inspiring collective story of self determination and sovereignty is far from over

Goodlands Frances W. Kaye, 2011 Amer European settlement of the Great Plains transformed bountiful Native soil into pasture and cropland distorting the prairie ecosystem that the peoples who originally populated the land had long understood and were able to use wisely Settlers justified this transformation with the unexamined premise of deficiency according to which the vast area of the Great Plains was inadequate in flora and fauna and lacking in the advances of modern civilization Drawing on history literature art and economic theory Frances W Kaye counters the argument of deficiency pointing out that in its original ecological state no region can possibly be incomplete Goodlands examines the settlers misguided theory discussing the ideas that shaped its implementation the forces that resisted it and Indigenous ideologies about what it meant to make good use of the land By suggesting methods for redeveloping the Great Plains that are based on native cultural values Kaye points the way to a balanced and sustainable future for the region in the context of a changing globe Frances W Kaye is professor of English at the University of Nebraska She is the author of Hiding the Audience Arts and Arts Institutions on the Prairies Kaye divides her time between a farmstead outside Lincoln Nebraska and a house in Calgary so that she may always be close to the prairie land that drives her research Journey to Freedom Kent
