Teaching with One Eye Shut Marques Vickers, Michael McCaffrey has lost his teaching idealism but not pragmatism towards his profession Teaching with One Eye Shut escorts you into the classroom faculty room sanctuary and campus grounds of St Elizabeth St Ignacius SESI a northern California Catholic high School Your host McCaffrey is an eight year business instructor beyond the burnout stage and uncertain as to his future in the profession His turmoil carries over into his personal life and relationships McCaffrey shares his clear eyed observations about classroom instruction discipline peers and the bureaucracy accompanying teaching He dismisses imposed school administration artificial team building tactics For him teachers are individuals expressing their point of view on subject matters as they visualize it Peer s advice and Principals are of marginal value His evaluations are often cutting and dismissive They are balanced by periodic inspiring and surprising heroics emerging from unlikely sources McCaffrey seemingly has an unflinching opinion about everyone and especially himself His students can be a distracted and devouring audience but he is genuinely appreciated He introduces the reader into the authentic and sometimes erratic nature of classroom lecture and discussion His teaching subjects include technology marketing and law His students responses address more poignant issues including racism home life and their futures beyond schooling The deeper exchanges are often conducted between classes or emerge amidst casual conversations and daily interactions McCaffrey addresses timely issues over the success and shortcomings of contemporary education He concludes that society comfortably maintains misplaced priorities and ignorance towards education and its practitioners He takes issue with uninvolved parents who drop their children off like dirty laundry and expect a private institution to cleanse them of their bad habits while educating them He maintains that Catholic education is distinct and different from public schools His conclusion is based on expected behavioral accountability and reinforced discipline rather than superior personal facilities and educational techniques A school s objective remains to stimulate a graduating class of lifelong learners This lofty goal is tested daily by certain under achieving troubled and unmotivated students neurotic faculty members and hamstrung by trifling misdirected rules McCaffrey notes that victories surface when his contemporaries enable students to navigate the tenuous labyrinth of adolescence and learning His varied observations encompass teacher liability absence policies and career burnout objective grading classroom discipline school fundraising compensation athletic programs peer gossip and pranks equipment deficiencies and dress codes McCaffrey is SESI s acknowledged faculty satirist who zealously guards his private time absent of extra curricular supervisions He is never a perennial candidate for Teacher of the Year honors His cast of instructional intimates and foils include basketball coach and confident Rich Ringer siren Suzzi Issacs milquetoast Dennis Greeley incompetent Alex Orrigo misdirected Tim Lovelace mumbling Principal Brother Moody and a colorful parade of diverse and eclectic personalities A variety of candid and favorite students are introduced with the irrepressible Ralphie Houwser heading the list McCaffrey feels trapped by his inability to move forward with his life A year ending interaction with one of his peers offers him hope Will a Parisian rendezvous on Bastille Day become his ultimate liberation from professional and personal stagnation Teaching with One Eye Shut addresses the fragile and volatile role of mentors and educators McCaffrey s memoir offers a realistic and humorous view of the realities behind high school instructing spiced by his periodic exaggerations

African Americans in South Texas History Bruce A. Glasrud, 2011-04-13 The history of South Texas is more racially and ethnically complex than many people realize As a border area South Texas has experienced some especially interesting forms of racial and ethnic intersection influenced by the relatively small number of blacks especially in certain counties the function and importance of the South Texas cattle trade proximity to Mexico and the history of anti black violence The essays in African Americans in South Texas History give insight into this fascinating history The articles in this volume written over a span of almost three decades were chosen for their readability scholarship and general interest Contributors Jennifer Borrer Edward Byerly Judith Kaaz Doyle Rob Fink Robert A Goldberg Kenneth Wayne Howell Larry P Knight Rebecca A Kosary David Louzon Sarah R Massey Jeanette Nyda Mendelssohn Passty Janice L Sumler Edmond Cary D Wintz Rue Wood a valuable addition to the literature chronicling the black experience in the land of the Lone Star While previous studies have concentrated on regions most reflective of Dixie origins this collection examines the tri ethnic area of Texas adjoining Mexico wherein cotton was scarce and cattle plentiful Glasrud has assembled an excellent group of essays from which readers will learn much L Patrick Hughes professor of history Austin Community College

Napa Rebuilds: Two Months Following Their Devastating Earthquake Marques Vickers, 2015-01-14 Less than two months following the devastating August 24th earthquake Marques Publishing is releasing a pictorial edition entitled Releases Napa Rebuilds Two Months Following Their Devastating Earthquake The electronic book documents the extensive renovation and repair underway in the downtown sector most prominently damaged by the 6.0 quake Photographer and artist Marques Vickers compares current imagery between the damage done from the earthquake which he photographed two days following and the current reparations which he captured on the afternoon of October 16th What is most striking to an observer notes Vickers is the progress already in evidence and a confident sense that the downtown sector will be rebuilt back to its original intimate charm The direct strike and nature of the earthquake prompted necessary renovations and seismic retrofitting that will hopefully prevent a reoccurrence of the same scale of damage Among the downtown historical building photographed include the Alexandria Hotel Winship Smernes complex Novelli Bail Bonds building Napa County Courthouse Gordon Building Franklin Post Office Goodman Library Sam Kee Laundry First United Methodist and First Presbyterian Churches An estimated 400 million in damage was originally estimated immediately following the quake but conceivably the costs might exceed 1 billion once the reparations are completed Several of the buildings considered originally damaged beyond repair are being renovating and will ultimately be serviceable Many downtown business and restaurants are fully operational Downtown Napa is far from a ghost town during business hours Significant commerce is being conducted adjacent to the repair work and scaffolding None of the historical buildings currently under repair appear to be habitable or functional yet observed Vickers The process will take months perhaps years but nearly every structure is undergoing some form of rehabilitation Vickers's publication features in excess of 100 images enabling readers to view a firsthand perspective of the coordinated refurbishment of the downtown region I hope to document the continuing process of recovery long after the area fades from the media spotlight This regeneration process is indicative of America's capacity to recover from catastrophe and is a credit to our national character Sand and Water Marques Vickers, 2014-10-17 Sand and Water is a collection of over 100 photographs taken by artist Marques Vickers showcasing the relationship between the sands of the desert and shores of seascapes The desert scenes were photographed primarily in Scottsdale and Sedona Arizona and water scenes in Carmel Monterey and various coastal and water stretches of the San Francisco bay area Vickers' photographic series comprise his personal glimpse of territory through an artistic lens His work has been exhibited and distributed worldwide This is his fourteenth publication of 2014
