Xhosa and Russian Folktales Bertie Neethling, 2019-07-26 The purpose of this publication is to indicate that Xhosa iintsomi folktales are structured in such a way that many links or commonalities emerge when a comparison between tales is made Orally transmitted literary forms had to endure much prejudice and were often not considered worthy of study However in many different cultures all over the world the concept of oral literature and its functioning still exists There are various forms of oral literature but one of the best known is the folktale Folklorist and formalist Vladimir Propp 1895 1970 aimed to describe the story structure of Russian folktales according to a linear sequence of the acts of the characters Using one hundred folktales he illustrated how the storylines of these tales are remarkably similar identical actions are often performed only by different characters The somewhat surprising and obvious links between Propp s material and Xhosa iintsomi prompted the choice of Propp s model as the departure point for this comparative study Forty five Xhosa folktales were chosen because of their literary quality and suitability to Propp s methodology as a tool to organise the Xhosa data on the grounds of structural features that characterise this genre Routledge Handbook of Critical Indigenous Studies Brendan Hokowhitu, Aileen Moreton-Robinson, Linda Tuhiwai-Smith, Chris Andersen, Steve Larkin, 2020-12-30 The Routledge Handbook of Critical Indigenous Studies is the first comprehensive overview of the rapidly expanding field of Indigenous scholarship The book is ambitious in scope ranging across disciplines and national boundaries with particular reference to the lived conditions of Indigenous peoples in the first world The contributors are all themselves Indigenous scholars who provide critical understandings of indigeneity in relation to ontology ways of being epistemology ways of knowing and axiology ways of doing with a view to providing insights into how Indigenous peoples and communities engage and examine the worlds in which they are immersed Sections include Indigenous Sovereignty Indigeneity in the 21st Century Indigenous Epistemologies The Field of Indigenous Studies Global Indigeneity This handbook contributes to the re centring of Indigenous knowledges providing material and ideational analyses of social political and cultural institutions and critiquing and considering how Indigenous peoples situate themselves within outside and in relation to dominant discourses dominant postcolonial cultures and prevailing Western thought This book will be of interest to scholars with an interest in Indigenous peoples across Literature History Sociology Critical Geographies Philosophy Cultural Studies Postcolonial Studies Native Studies M ori Studies Hawaiian Studies Native American Studies Indigenous Studies Race Studies Queer Studies Politics Law and Feminism Driving Change Trish Gibbon, 2014-06-14 Driving Change tells a story that exemplifies a basic law of physics known to all the application of a relatively small lever can shift weight create movement and initiate change far in excess of its own size It tells a story about a particular instance of development cooperation relatively modest in scope and aim that has nonetheless achieved remarkable things and has been held up as an exemplar of its kind It does not tell a story of flawless execution and perfectly achieved outcomes it is instead a narrative that gives some insight into the structural and organisational arrangements the institutional and individual commitments and above all the work intelligence and passion of its participants which made the SANTED Programme a noteworthy success Ghosts of Archive Verne Harris,2020-12-21 Ghosts of Archive draws on the discourses of deconstruction intersectionality and archetypal psychology to mount an argument that archive is fundamentally and structurally spectral and that the work of archive is justice Drawing on more than 20 years of the author s research on deconstruction and archive the book posits archive as an essential resource for social justice activism and as a source or location of soul for individuals and communities Through explorations of what Jacques Derrida termed hauntology Harris invites a listening to the call for justice in conceptual spaces that are non disciplinary He argues that archive is both constructed in relation to and beset by ghosts ghosts of the living of the dead and of those not yet born and that attention should be paid to them Establishing a unique nexus between a deconstructive intersectionality and traditions of memory for justice in struggles against oppression from South Africa and elsewhere the book makes a case for a deconstructive praxis in today s archive Offering new ideas about spectrality banditry and archival activism Ghosts of Archive should appeal to those working in the disciplines of archival science information studies and psychology It should also be essential reading for those with an interest in social justice issues transitional justice history philosophy memory studies and postcolonial studies Higher Education and Capacity Building in Africa Hanne Kirstine Adriansen,Lene Møller Madsen,Stig Jensen,2015-11-06 Higher education has recently been recognized as a key driver for societal growth in the Global South and capacity building of African universities is now widely included in donor policies The question is how do capacity building projects affect African universities researchers and students Universities and their scientific knowledges are often seen to have universal qualities therefore capacity building may appear straight forward Higher Education and Capacity Building in Africa contests such universalistic notions Inspired by ideas about the geography of scientific knowledge it explores what role specific places and relationships have in knowledge production and analyses how cultural experiences are included and excluded in teaching and research Thus the different chapters show how what constitutes legitimate scientific knowledge is negotiated and contested In doing so the chapters draw on discussions about the hegemony of Western thought in education and knowledge production The authors own experiences with higher education capacity building and knowledge production are discussed and used to contribute to the reflexive turn and rise of auto ethnography This book is a valuable resource for researchers and postgraduate students in education development studies African studies and human geography as well as anthropology and history Evaluating Indigenous African Tradition for Cultural Reconstruction and Mind Decolonization Durodolu, Oluwole Olumide,Chisita, Collence T.,Marutha, Ngoako Solomon,Familusi, Olumuyiwa Olusesan,2024-08-22 This book examines the relevance of indigenous African tradition to cultural reconstruction and evaluates the place of African culture in the global context This book is an essential resource for academics students researchers and anyone interested in understanding the relevance of African Traditional Religion in contemporary times and the need for cultural reconstruction and mind decolonization for the betterment of the African continent and the world at large

Livelihood and Landscape Change in Africa: Future Trajectories for Improved Well-Being under a Changing Climate Sheona Shackleton, Paul Hebinck, Chinwe Ifejika Speranza, Vanessa Masterson, Dian Spear, Maria Tengö, 2019-10-08 This book is based on a Special Issue of the journal LAND that draws together a collection of 11 diverse articles at the nexus of climate change landscapes and livelihoods in rural Africa all explore the links between livelihood and landscape change including shifts in farming practices and natural resource use and management The articles which are all place based case studies across nine African countries cover three not necessarily mutually exclusive thematic areas namely smallholder farming livelihoods under new climate risk five articles long term dynamics of livelihoods and landscape change and future trajectories two articles and natural resource management and governance under a changing climate spanning forests woodlands and rangelands four articles The commonalities key messages and research gaps across the 11 articles are presented in a synthesis article All the case studies pointed to the need for an integrated and in depth understanding of the multiple drivers of landscape and livelihood change and how these interact with local histories knowledge systems cultures complexities and lived realities Moreover where there are interventions such as new governance systems REDD or climate smart agriculture it is critical to interrogate what is required to ensure a fair and equitable distribution of emerging benefits

Paradise Lost, 2022-06-13 Paradise Lost Race and Racism in Post apartheid South Africa is about the continuing salience of race and persistence of racism in post apartheid South Africa The chapters in the volume illustrate the multiple ways in which race and racism are manifested and propose various strategies to confront racial inequality racism and the power structure that underpins it while exploring how through a renewed commitment to a non racial society apartheid racial categories can be put under erasure at exactly the time they are being reinforced

Higher Education in the BRICS Countries Simon Schwartzman, Rómulo Pinheiro, Pundy Pillay, 2015-03-24 In spite of the increasing attention attributed to the rise in prominence of the BRICS Brazil Russia India China and South Africa countries few studies have looked at the ways in which broader social expectations with respect to the role of higher education across the BRICS have changed or not in recent years Our point of departure is that contrary to the conventional wisdom focusing on functionalistic perspectives higher education systems are not just designed by governments to fulfill certain functions but have a tendency for evolving in a rather unpredictable fashion as a result of the complex interplay between a number of internal and external factors In reality national higher education systems develop and change according to a complex process that encompasses the expectations of governmental agencies markets the aspirations of the population for the benefits of education the specific institutional traditions and cultures of higher education institutions and increasingly so the interests and strategies of the private firms entering and offering services in the higher education market This basically means that it is of outmost importance to move away from conceiving of universities or higher education as single monolithic actors or sector One way of doing this is by investigating a selected number of distinct but nonetheless interrelated factors or drivers which taken together help determine the nature and scope of the social compact between higher education its core actors and institutions and society at large government industry local communities professional associations Citizen, Territory and Technologies: Smart Learning Contexts and Practices Óscar Mealha, Monica Divitini, Matthias Rehm, 2017-06-21 This book gathers a selection of the articles accepted for presentation and discussion at the 2nd International Conference on Smart Learning Ecosystems and Regional Developments SLERD 2017 held 22 23 June What characterizes smart learning ecosystems What is their role in city and regional development and innovation How can we promote the engagement of citizens in smart learning ecosystems These are some of the questions addressed at SLERD 2017 and documented here The proceedings include scientific papers that endeavor to understand devise and promote innovative human centric design and development methods education training practices informal social learning and citizen driven policies The individual papers elaborate on the notion of smart learning ecosystems study the relation of smart learning ecosystems with As such they help to foster the social innovation sectors Information and Communication Technology ICT and economic development and deployment strategies alongside new policies for smarter proactive citizens making them a valuable resource for researchers and policymakers alike
