The Intrinsic Value of Endangered Species Ian A. Smith, 2016-01-08 Why save endangered species without clear aesthetic economic or ecosystemic value This book takes on this challenging question through an account of the intrinsic goods of species Ian A Smith argues that a species intrinsic value stems from its ability to flourish its organisms continuing to reproduce successfully and it avoiding extinction which helps to demonstrate a further claim that humans ought to preserve species that we have endangered He shows our need to exercise humility in our relations with endangered species through the preservation of their intrinsic goods which in turn rectifies our degradation of their importance Unique in its appeal to virtue ethics and to species concepts The Intrinsic Value of Endangered Species is an important resource for scholars working in environmental ethics and the philosophy of biology

Leigh Claire La Berge, 2023-10-02. At the outset of Marx for Cats, Leigh Claire La Berge declares that all history is the history of cat struggle. Revising the medieval bestiary form to meet

Marxist critique La Berge follows feline footprints through Western economic history to reveal an animality at the heart of Marxism She draws on a twelve hundred year arc spanning capitalism s feudal prehistory its colonialist and imperialist ages the bourgeois revolutions that supported capitalism and the communist revolutions that opposed it to outline how cats have long been understood as creatures of economic critique and liberatory possibility By attending to the repeated archival appearance of lions tigers wildcats and sabo tabbies La Berge argues that felines are central to how Marxists have imagined the economy and by asking what humans and animals owe each other in a moment of ecological crisis La Berge joins current debates about the need for and possibility of eco socialism In this playful and generously illustrated radical bestiary La Berge demonstrates that class struggle is ultimately an interspecies collaboration Methods of Engagement of Dementia Care Users in Research and Practice Development W. George Kernohan,Suzanne Timmons,Anthea Innes ,David

Edvardsson,2025-10-23 Dementia is a complex and chronic condition associated with significant physical cognitive and emotional challenges The burden of dementia weighs not only on people living with dementia but also on their families and caregivers The development of new effective and sustainable dementia care interventions therefore requires the active engagement of all service users in research studies and in the implementation of research findings in the dementia care practice while ensuring that interventions are tailored to meet individual needs and preferences However there remains a need to build innovative methods to engage service users in the development and evaluation of dementia care interventions The goal of this Research Topic is to explore and advance the use of innovative methods to engage dementia care users in research and practice development Specifically we aim to highlight best practices and approaches to involving people living with dementia and their families in the design implementation and evaluation of dementia care interventions with a focus on participatory co design and other collaborative approaches to research and practice development We welcome the submission of any type of manuscript supported by the journal including Original Research Review etc addressing a range of topics related to stakeholder engagement in the development and evaluation of dementia care interventions These topics may include but are not limited to the following The design and implementation of participatory co design or other collaborative approaches to research and practice development in dementia care including methods to identify and prioritize the needs and preferences of dementia care users and their families The role of patient and public involvement PPI in the development and evaluation of dementia care interventions including the evaluation of PPI approaches and their impact on intervention design and outcomes Strategies to engage and support caregivers in the co design and evaluation of dementia care interventions including best practices in recruitment training and building capacity The evaluation of the impact of stakeholder engagement on the acceptability feasibility effectiveness and sustainability of dementia care research and interventions Ethical and practical considerations in the use of participatory and co design approaches to dementia care research and practice development Suitable theoretically sound frameworks to inform and guide the engagement of people
