Clinical Guide to Effective Psychological Assessment and Report Writing Rosemary Flanagan, 2024-09-17 The book examines the preparation and presentation of psychological data reports for various stakeholders e.g. teachers, parents, caregivers. It details strategies for clear and effective prose and visuals that reach beyond the narrative and emphasize data integration. Chapters are organized around specific themes contained in the overall report and its sections e.g. cognitive achievement, social, emotional, personality, as well as the process of data reporting, its description, and eventual communication to consumers. The volume addresses the rationale for and considerations important to carrying out this mission, including reporting and explaining data obtained from English language learners (ELLs). It provides examples of sample data sets detailing how to apply and illustrate these principles and reflect contemporary data interpretation. In addition, the book provides checklists as well as appendices and tables that should be considered when preparing reports. The book discusses the processes and mechanics of integrating data within and across sections of reports, thereby providing alternatives to strictly boilerplate reports as well as practical recommendations that can be readily implemented to benefit students. Key areas of coverage include: Preparing psychological reports for all stakeholders; Data presentations for lay audiences; Contemporary data reporting not driven by a boilerplate; Illustrations of data integration and customized prose; Generating intervention recommendations for students using descriptive data; Tailoring the writing process to create defensible reports for school, clinical, and neuropsychological referrals. This volume is an essential resource for researchers, professors, graduate students, as well as clinicians, therapists, and other professionals in developmental, clinical, child, and school psychology, educational assessment, testing, and evaluation, social work, public health, and all interrelated disciplines. Psychological Assessment and Report Writing Karen Goldfinger, Andrew M. Pomerantz, 2013-04-09 Outlining a step-by-step assessment model. Psychological Assessment and Report Writing Second Edition covers five key topics central to psychological assessment: understanding the context of a referral; determining what data is needed to answer referral questions; gathering the data; integrating the data; and communicating the findings. Authors Karen Goldfinger and Andrew M. Pomerantz review each facet of psychological assessment and report writing, providing how-to instructions and alerting readers to a myriad of issues they must consider when conducting assessments in clinical, forensic, or educational environments. Filled with varied case examples that promote interest and meet instructional requirements, including one detailed case study that recurs throughout multiple chapters, the book uses sidebars and question-and-answer sections to encourage readers to consider their own case material and use critical thinking skills as they review each section of the model. Contemporary Intellectual Assessment Dawn P. Flanagan, Erin M. McDonough, 2022-12-05 In one volume, this authoritative reference presents a current, comprehensive overview of intellectual and cognitive assessment with a focus on practical applications.
