Automated Essay Scoring Mark D. Shermis, Jill C. Burstein, 2003-01-30 This new volume is the first to focus entirely on automated essay scoring and evaluation. It is intended to provide a comprehensive overview of the evolution and state of the art of automated essay scoring and evaluation technology across several disciplines including education testing and measurement, cognitive science, computer science, and computational linguistics. The development of this technology has led to many questions and concerns. Automated Essay Scoring attempts to address some of these questions including: How can automated scoring and evaluation supplement classroom instruction? How does the technology actually work? Can it improve students' writing? How reliable is the technology? How can these computing methods be used to develop evaluation tools? What are the state-of-the-art essay evaluation technologies and automated scoring systems? Divided into four parts, the first part reviews the teaching of writing and how computers can contribute to it. Part II analyzes actual automated essay scorers including e-rater™, Intellimetric, and the Intelligent Essay Assessor. The third part analyzes related psychometric issues, and the final part reviews innovations in the field. This book is ideal for researchers and advanced students interested in automated essay scoring from the fields of testing and measurement, education, cognitive science, language, and computational linguistics.

Small Boats and Daring Men Benjamin Armstrong, 2019-04-18 Two centuries before the daring exploits of Navy SEALs and Marine Raiders captured the public imagination, the U.S. Navy and Marine Corps were already engaged in similarly perilous missions: raiding pirate camps, attacking enemy ships in the dark of night, and striking enemy facilities and resources on shore. Even John Paul Jones, father of the American navy, saw such irregular operations as critical to naval warfare. With Jones's own experience as a starting point, Benjamin Armstrong sets out to take irregular naval warfare out of the shadow of the blue water battles that dominate naval history. This book, the first historical study of its kind, makes a compelling case for raiding and irregular naval warfare as key elements in the story of American sea power. Beginning with the Continental Navy, Small Boats and Daring Men traces maritime missions through the wars of the early republic from the coast of modern-day Libya to the rivers and inlets of the Chesapeake Bay. At the same time, Armstrong examines the era's conflicts with nonstate enemies and threats to American peacetime interests along Pacific and Caribbean shores. Armstrong brings a uniquely informed perspective to his subject and his work with reference to original naval operational reports, sailors' memoirs and diaries, and officers' correspondence is at once an exciting narrative of danger and combat at sea and a thoroughgoing analysis of how these events fit into concepts of American sea power. Offering a critical new look at the naval history of the Early American era, this book also raises fundamental questions for naval strategy in the twenty-first century.

Reflective Reading and the Power of Narrative Karyn Sproles, 2018-07-11 Reflective Reading and the Power of Narrative: Producing the Reader is an interdisciplinary exploration into the profound power of narratives to create and recreate how we imagine ourselves. It posits that the process of producing a text also produces the reader. Written from the perspective of a psychoanalytic feminist Sproles considers a wide array of examples from literature popular culture and her own experiences to illustrate what she calls reflective reading a metacognitive reading practice that recognizes the workings of the unconscious to push the reader toward a potentially transformational engagement with narrative This may manifest as epiphany recovery from loss or resolution of repressed trauma Each chapter draws on examples of characters and authors who model a reflective reading process from Jane Austen and Virginia Woolf to Johnny Cash and Alison Bechdel By reclaiming the role of the unconscious Karyn Sproles reinvigorates the theoretical work begun by reader response criticism and develops a deep understanding of identification and transference as an integral part of the reading process For students and researchers of cultural studies psychoanalysis gender studies and feminist literature and theory Reflective Reading and the Power of Narrative offers innovative and accessible ideas on the relationship between reader and text The Open Access version of this book available at <http://www.taylorfrancis.com> has been made available under a Creative Commons Attribution Non Commercial No Derivatives CC BY NC ND 4 0 license
