Resources in Education, 1998

Creating a Tipping Point: Strategic Human Resources in Higher Education Alvin Evans, Edna Chun, 2012-05-15 In a turbulent unstable era of severe financial pressures the development of strategic human resource HR practices has become an urgent mandate in higher education With significant and widespread institutional shifts resulting from globalization heightened competition and rapid innovation educational leaders must optimize their most significant resource human capital and align HR strategies structures and processes with organizational goals Due to substantial cuts in state appropriations and rapidly diminishing budgets public institutions of higher education in particular are struggling to realign resources and programs to fulfill their educational missions and maintain academic quality while simultaneously responding to complex external legislative and accreditation mandates In light of these challenges Creating a Tipping Point Strategic Human Resources in Higher Education breaks new ground by presenting a research based approach that supports the evolution of HR practices from siloed transactional models to strategic operations that serve the entire university This monograph provides a concrete progressive road map to developing organizational capabilities in support of the university s academic mission and illustrates this pathway with examples drawn from public research universities It offers strategies tools metrics and action steps that support the development of an effective and efficient strategic HR operation in higher education For institutions seeking to implement strategic HR this book is a practical and invaluable resource

How Fear and Stress Shape the Mind Luke R. Johnson, 2016-09-26

The experience of fear and stress leaves an indelible trace on the brain. This indelible trace is observed as both changes in behavior and changes in neuronal structure and function. Fear and stress interact on many levels. The experience of stress may lead to the formation of a fearful memory trace of a place or reminder cue, and fearful memory formation is regulated by the extent of concurrent stress. The concurrent experience of fear and stress may amplify fear and slow fear extinction, which may lead to pathology. Fear memory formation involves changes in synaptic plasticity, while stress and glucocorticoids change neuronal structure. Thus, both neurons and synapses are changed. These changes can be identified, visualised, and mapped within focused microcircuits. In this Research Topic, we focus on current advances in both the neurobiology and behavioral consequences of fear and stress.
