Oral and Literary Continuities in Modern Tibetan Literature Lama Jabb, 2015-06-10 This is the first book length study to appear in English on the literary cultural and political roots of modern Tibetan literature While existing scholarship on modern Tibetan writing takes the 1980s as its point of birth and presents this period as marking a rupture with traditional forms of literature this book goes beyond such an interpretation by foregrounding instead the persistence of Tibet's artistic past and oral traditions in the literary creativity of the present While acknowledging the innovative features of modern Tibetan literary creation it draws attention to the hitherto neglected aspects of continuity within the new This study explores the endurance of genres styles concepts techniques symbolisms and idioms derived from Tibet's rich and diverse oral art forms and textual traditions It reveals how Tibetan kavya poetics the mgur genre life writing the Gesar epic and other modes of oral and literary compositions are referenced and adapted in novel ways within modern Tibetan poetry and fiction It also brings to prominence the complex and fertile interplay between orality and the Tibetan literary text Embracing a multidisciplinary approach drawing on theoretical insights in western literary theory and criticism political studies sociology and anthropology this research shows that alongside literary and oral continuities the Tibetan nation proves to be an inevitable attribute of modern Tibetan literature empathy and humor about the real challenges faced by Tibetans in the age of globalization Advance Praise for Enticement Pema Tseden is known internationally as an award winning filmmaker the elegant and contemplative pioneering auteur of new Tibetan cinema Western audiences may not however be aware that he began his career as a critically acclaimed writer of short stories Patricia Schiaffini Vedani and Michael Monhart have for the first time shared with the English reader a comprehensive anthology of both his Chinese and Tibetan stories The stories in this collection reflect Pema Tseden s characteristically observant unhurried and humanistic take on the violent social changes faced by Tibetans living at the edge of China s economic transformation Schiaffini Vedani and Monhart s translations are rich and faithful to the original texts They must be commended for providing us with a valuable new source on cultural life in contemporary Tibet Tsering Shakya author of The Dragon in the Land of Snows A History of Modern Tibet Since 1947 Pema Tseden is the singularly most influential Tibetan filmmaker on the international scene With this skillfully translated collection of short stories Enticement readers can now also appreciate his written works including the renowned Tharlo In literary long shots the author transforms grasslands snowy expanses and county seats into mindscapes with a curious and chilly brilliance until they are rendered translucent Elsewhere he racks focus with wry humor from quirky details to complex social realities finding possibility in fantasy chance meetings and even mistranslation Interspersed with the winsome and arboreal artwork of Wu Yao and with the orientation of an insightful introduction and preface these contemporary tales beckon readers with all the promise of the title story towards the liminal where cultural and temporal displacement may point to new meanings Laurant R Hartley Columbia University Pema Tseden a distinguished writer and filmmaker is an important leader among Tibetan intellectuals He sees Tibet as more than a land of startling natural beauty of profound religious heritage and of galling colonization by the Communist Party of China correct though those views are For him Tibetan culture lives not only in Tibet proper but across Qinghai Sichuan and Gansu as well and Tibetan people are not mystical Others but ordinary human beings flawed as we all are who struggle to adapt their inherited lives to the modern world as people everywhere now or recently have done By looking beyond clichéd concepts to examine actual lives Pema Tseden s work enriches Tibetan culture and shows a new face for it Perry Link author of An Anatomy of Chinese Rhythm Metaphor Politics For the first time in the Anglophone world we have an extraordinary translation of short stories by the celebrated Tibetan filmmaker and writer Pema Tseden originally written in Tibetan and Mandarin Chinese While he wrote his stories in Tibetan for his Tibetan readers in Mandarin Chinese for Chinese readers the translators have brought both sets of stories together in one volume to allow readers to compare and contrast how he writes for different audiences These stories told in beguilingly simple and direct prose are powerful vignettes of Tibetan life as powerful as his deeply evocative films filled not only with despair and loss but also beauty and longing These elegant stories are almost more powerful in what they do not say than in what they do say I recommend Enticement to everyone Shu mei Shih author of Visuality and Identity Sinophone Articulations across the Pacific The blinding sun wind storms wolves and death are at work in these vital and unforgettable stories Equally the social forces of surveillance bureaucracy information misinformation and romance propel the narratives which encompass the ordinary and the truly strange The collection is invaluable for offering an all too rare Tibetan view of Tibet revealing unexpected and disorienting perspectives on Buddhism and on Tibetans engagements with the Chinese state The characters we get to know are police officers herders artists children lamas and lovers They are all painfully and vividly alive their every move and impulse represented with startlingly detailed observation Readers will be richer in knowledge and imagination from spending time with these stories so expertly translated that we feel we hear the author s compassionate and yet relentlessly perceptive voice One is left with an impression that is crystal clear and yet uncanny It is difficult to say whether the strongest draw of the stories is humor or sorrow Dominique Townsend Bard College Reworking Postcolonialism P. Caple,2019-03-31 The speed and extent of the Tibetan Buddhist monastic revival make it one of the most extraordinary stories of religious resurgence in post Mao China At the end of the 1970s there were no working monasteries within a decade thousands had been reconstructed and repopulated Most studies have focused on the political challenges facing Tibetan monasteries emphasizing their relationship to the Chinese state Yet in their efforts to revive and develop their institutions monks have also had to negotiate a rapidly changing society playing a delicate balancing act fraught with moral dilemma as well as political danger Drawing on the recent moral turn in anthropology this volume the first full length ethnographic study of the subject explores the social and moral dimensions of monastic revival and reform across a range of Geluk monasteries in northeast Tibet Amdo Qinghai Province from the 1980s on Author Jane Caple s analysis shows that ideas and debates about how best to maintain the mundane bases of monastic Buddhism economy and population are intermeshed with those concerning the proper role and conduct of monks and the ethics of monastic lay relations Facing a shrinking monastic population monks are grappling with the impacts of secular education demographic transition rising living standards urbanization and marketization all of which have driven debates within Buddhism elsewhere and fueled perceptions of monastic decline. Some Tibetans, including monks, are even questioning the good of the mass form of monasticism that has been a distinctive feature of Tibetan society for hundreds of years. Given monastic Buddhism's integral position in Tibetan community life and association with Tibetan identity, Caple argues that its precarity in relation to Tibetan society raises questions about its future that go well beyond the issue of religious freedom.
