Environment Raven 8th Edition:

Environment Peter H. Raven, Linda R. Berg, David M. Hassenzahl, 2012-12-17 Raven's 8th edition of Environment offers more detailed content than the Visualizing text for a better understanding and integration of the core environmental systems and to view and analyze the role those systems play. Shorter but still comprehensive coverage focuses on ethical decision making and key local environmental science issues requiring readers to think critically about the course material outside of the classroom. Other features include brief text in the comprehensive segment, extensive chapter pedagogy to help reinforce the systems approach, more opportunities to think critically about how systems intersect and fit together, and new data interpretation questions at the end of each chapter.

Environmental Chemistry, Eighth Edition Stanley E. Manahan, 2004-08-26 Environmental Chemistry Eighth Edition builds on the same organizational structure validated in previous editions to systematically develop the principles, tools, and techniques of environmental chemistry to provide students and professionals with a clear understanding of the science and its applications. Revised and updated since the publication of the best-selling Seventh Edition, this text continues to emphasize the major concepts essential to the practice of environmental science, technology, and chemistry while introducing the newest innovations to the field. The author provides clear explanations to important concepts such as the anthrosphere, industrial ecosystems, geochemistry, aquatic chemistry, and atmospheric chemistry, including the study of ozone-depleting chlorofluorocarbons. The subject of industrial chemistry and energy resources is supported by pertinent topics in recycling and hazardous waste. Several chapters review environmental biochemistry and toxicology, and the final chapters describe analytical methods for measuring chemical and biological waste. New features in this edition include enhanced coverage of chemical fate and transport, industrial ecology, particularly how it is integrated with green chemistry, conservation principles, and recent accomplishments in sustainable chemical science and technology, a new chapter addressing terrorism and threats to the environment, and the use of real world examples.

Human and Ecological Risk Assessment Dennis J.

Paustenbach, 2017-05-22 Human and Ecological Risk Assessment Theory and Practice assembles the expertise of more than fifty authorities from fifteen different fields forming a comprehensive reference and textbook on risk assessment. Containing two dozen case studies of environmental or human health risk assessments, the text not only presents the theoretical underpinnings of the discipline but also serves as a complete handbook and how to guide for individuals conducting or interpreting risk assessments. In addition, more than 4 000 published papers and books in the field are cited. Editor Dennis Paustenbach has assembled chapters that present the most current methods for conducting hazard identification, dose response and exposure assessment and risk characterization components for risk assessments of any chemical hazard to humans or wildlife, fish, birds and terrestrials. Topics addressed include hazards posed by Air emissions, Radiological hazards, Contaminated soil and foods, Agricultural hazards, Occupational hazards, Consumer products and water, Hazardous waste sites, Contaminated air and water. The bringing together of so many of the world's authorities on these topics plus the comprehensive nature of the text promises to make Human and Ecological Risk Assessment the text against which others will be measured in the coming years.

Mercury, Mining, and Empire Nicholas A. Robins, 2011-07-25

On the basis of an examination of the colonial mercury and silver production processes and related labor systems, Mercury, Mining, and Empire explores the effects of mercury pollution in colonial Huancavelica, Peru, and Potosí in present-day Bolivia. The book presents a multifaceted and interwoven tale of what colonial exploitation of indigenous peoples and resources left in its wake. It is a socio-ecological history that explores the toxic interrelationships between mercury and silver production, urban environments, and the people who lived and worked in them. Nicholas A. Robins tells the story of how native peoples in the region were conscripted into the noxious ranks of foot soldiers of proto-globalism and how their fate and that of their communities was and still is chained to it.
