Democracy, Federalism, the European Revolution, and Global Governance Andrea Bosco, 2020-06-10 The European Union

is facing today the greatest crisis since its creation Brexit could mean not only the reversal of its steady enlargement from 6 to 28 member states but also the beginning of an inexorable decline leading to its disintegration However few today seem to recollect that it was precisely the British who were the first to promulgate the political culture which inspired the European Union's construction democracy and federalism and the first who tried to realise in June 1940 a European federation on the basis of an Anglo French union This volume traces the fundamental stages of the European unification process placing it in relation to the wider process of world economic and political integration In particular it analyses the historical significance of the European Revolution which is identified in the overcoming of the nation state namely the modern political formula which institutionalised the political division of mankind and the birth of the first truly international state The universal historical significance of the European Revolution lies in its exportability as for the other great European revolutions and therefore its potential as progressively extensible to all the states of the planet Europe was indeed the first region of the world where the barriers between national states fell and a post national political identity emerged complementary to national political identities It is in fact in the context of the European Union that democracy beyond the borders of the nation state has first been realized constituting a guiding principle for global governance

The Neighbours of the European Union's Neighbours Sieglinde Gstöhl, Erwan Lannon, 2016-02-24 Should the European Neighbourhood Policy stop at the borders of the European Union's immediate neighbouring countries This book is the first full length study of the neighbours of the EU's neighbours a concept originally introduced by the European Commission with reference to Saharan Africa the Middle East and Central Asia These regions in the EU's broader neighbourhood are often perceived as an arc of crisis from which manifold challenges emanate for Europe This timely book takes stock of the state of the EU's cooperation with the neighbours of its neighbours and explores how the concept might help promote security stability and prosperity beyond the countries which are formally part of the European Neighbourhood Policy How can the EU create bridges between these regions What instruments does the EU have at its disposal and how can it link them in order to respond to the challenges and overcome the current fragmentation One of the conclusions is the suggestion to consider a pragmatic EU Strategy for the Neighbours of its Neighbours which addresses the needs of the broader EU neighbourhood in a more systematic and consistent manner and helps transform in the long run the arc of crisis into another ring of friends

The European Neighbourhood Policy in a Comparative Perspective Sieglinde Gstohl, 2016-07-22 The European Neighbourhood Policy ENP has evolved into one of the European Union's major foreign policy instruments and received considerable attention However other EU neighbourhood policies and their relevance for the ENP also require examination The Arab uprisings civil wars in Libya and Syria the continuing Israeli Palestinian conflict the crisis in Ukraine and Russia's annexation of the Crimean peninsula have all brought the institutional design and tools of the ENP into question and a comparative perspective is crucial to understand EU neighbourhood policies in a wider sense This timely book puts the ENP into context by exploring the major challenges and key lessons of the EU's other policy frameworks with neighbouring countries Mapping the EU's bi lateral and multilateral neighbourhood relations in comparison to the ENP and investigating the major challenges faced it provides a comprehensive up to date view of the EU's relations with its neighbours Focusing on current affairs and future challenges the comparison with the ENP and the lessons to be drawn generate novel insights into the EU's closest external relations This book will be of key interest to students and scholars studying European Politics policies and comparative politics

Transformation of Cities in Central and Eastern Europe F. E. Ian Hamilton, Kaliopa Dimitrovska Andrews, Nataša Pichler-Milanović, 2005 Annotation This volume is one in a series initiated by the United Nations University Institute of Advanced Studies on the inter relationship between globalisation and urban transformation It identifies and describes the inter and intra urban transformations of Central and Eastern European cities and considers their pre 1945 historic legacies the socialist period and their contemporary transition towards market oriented and democratic systems The dramatic changes since 1989 including the collapse of Communist ideology the break up of the Soviet Union Czechoslovakia and Yugoslavia the end of the Cold War and the impact of globalisation and European integration have reconfigured this region and affected their re integration into European and global networks This book first examines the similarities and differences between significant Central and Eastern European cities comparing the differing patterns of historical context and socialist legacies before 1990 and the impacts of internal and external forces on re shaping these cities and their paths of transformation since 1990 It also examines the role of contemporary planning within the overall development of Central and Eastern European cities The conclusion demonstrates the similarities and differences between Central and Eastern European cities and their re integration into global networks

The Changing Political Structure of Europe René Lefebvre, Malgosia Fitzmaurice, E.W. Vierdag, 2024-12-09 Following profound modifications of Soviet ideology after the coming to power of Gorbachev Europe experienced an unprecedented time of change which resulted inter alia in the unification of the two German States the abolition of socialist international organizations the obsolescence of neutrality policies in the New Europe and the pull on the European Communities to admit new members These revolutionary events give rise to interesting legal questions Since international relations are changing the legal framework in which these relations are set has to change too In December 1990 international legal aspects of the changes in the political structure of Europe were discussed at a conference held in Amsterdam In this book which takes account of the outcomes of the discussions the international legal framework in which these changes take place and their consequences are described and analyzed by eminent scholars from East and West

Transnationalization and Regulatory Change in the EU's Eastern Neighbourhood Julia Langbein, 2015-06-03 Regulatory reforms in the EU's Eastern neighbourhood countries are not as sluggish as often perceived Rule enforcement is happening despite the presence of domestic veto players who favour the status quo the lack of EU membership perspective and the presence of Russia as an alternative governance provider Using Ukraine as a primary case study this book examines why convergence with transnational market rules varies across different policy sectors within the Eastern neighbourhood countries It analyzes the drivers of regulatory change and explores the conditions under which post Soviet economies integrate with international markets In doing so it argues that the impetus for regulatory change in the Eastern neighbourhood lies in specific strategies of domestic empowerment applied by external actors Furthermore through the study of the impact of Western and Russian transnational actors the book concludes that Russia's presence does not necessarily hinder the integration of the EU's Eastern neighbours with international markets Instead Russia both weakens and strengthens domestic support for convergence with transnational market rules in the region This book will be of key interest to students and scholars of European EU studies and international relations especially in the areas of regulatory politics transnational governance public policy and post Soviet transitions
