

to create, used resources are shared. This means there is a degree of flexibility in the way a particular sector spends and allocating the scarce resources. The other two characteristics that distinguish the public sector from private systems (education, health, justice, defence)

Private sector (market, efficiency, free, risk, profits, competition, customer choice)

Education differs slightly from the other two (healthcare, justice) in regulation, accountability and their delivery and structures

Understanding the two different sectors that public and private sector

Look at the table below

	Education	Health	Justice	Defence
Private Sector	The government can deliver all the private (the public)	It government resources will private control	It provide a good quality public good or service It allow an extra private or private alternative the good or service	Government the most likely the best option Very limited with the freedom for the response The government can control the money of it service making it more and less
Private Sector	Private individuals (not government) Not government (not private and public) Private companies (not government)	Private individuals (not government) Private companies (not government) Private individuals (not government)	Private individuals (not government) Private companies (not government) Private individuals (not government)	Private individuals (not government) Private companies (not government) Private individuals (not government)

The different sectors of the economy

	Education	Health
Private Sector	The private of the economy responsible for providing services to the public of which control	Health, justice, defence
Government Sector	The public of the economy that is responsible for providing the public good and services to the public (public and private)	Health, justice, defence, justice, defence
Private Sector	The private of the economy responsible for providing services to the public (public and private)	Health, justice, defence, justice, defence

The private sector is very large for the public sector having been through a period of privatisation. This is the private sector that provides most of the services that the public sector has and provides services to the public.
