GED Test Changes and Attainment Kara Larson, Cristina Gaeta, Lou Sager, 2016 In January 2014 the GED Testing Service significantly redesigned the GED test to incorporate the Common Core State Standards and the College and Career Readiness Standards for Adult Education The purpose of this study was to examine the significant changes made to the test in 2014 examine the impact of the changes on Washingtonians and make recommendations to achieve the state's two educational attainment goals The report presents available summary data from the GED Testing Service's annual statistical reports years 2008 2013 At the time of the study the GED Testing Service had not published state or national data for years 2014 and 2015 therefore the study analyzed 2014 and 2015 state summary data from Washington's State Board of Community and Technical Colleges and preliminary 2014 national summary data published by the National Council of State Directors of Adult Education Results show that coinciding with the changes to the GED test the number of test takers completers and passers plummeted Test participation decreased by 62.8 percent in 2013 over 22 000 Washingtonians took the test compared to fewer than 9 000 in 2014 The test completion rate decreased by 33.7 percent in 2013 over 18 000 test candidates completed all four subject areas of the test compared to just over 4 000 in 2014 In 2013 over 15 000 completers passed the test compared to just over 3 000 in 2014 From 2008 to 2013 more than 4 percent of Washington adults without a high school credential took the test compared to 1.5 percent in 2014 which has consequences for the Washington's educational attainment goals Possible reasons for the decline in numbers are explored Further research is recommended The following are appended 1 Comparison of 2002 GED test series to 2014 GED test series 2 Alternative pathways to high school completion and 3 Data Tables Contains endnotes

Trading for Good Christian Felber,2019-11-15 Trade is the lifeblood of the global economy but few would consider it a social good Instead our views on trade have polarized between two extremes free trade ideologues who regard trade as an end in itself and protectionists who view it as a destructive force to be contained But there is another way to trade one with the interests of people not profit at its heart In this visionary work Christian Felber founder of the Economy for the Common Good movement offers a dazzling new paradigm for the global trading order Confronting the free trade religion which has reigned since Adam Smith Felber champions an alternative approach in which trade serves the wider interests of society incorporating the key issues of our time human rights climate change and the growing divide richer and poorer countries He proposes the groundbreaking idea of an Ethical Trade Zone founded on a principled approach to tariffs and trade policies and built with international cooperation on trade taxation and labour Penetrating and passionate Christian Felber shows how this brave new economic world can be built democratically from the grassroots up and how trading for good can be made a reality Routledge Handbook of Evidence-Based Criminal Justice Practices Edelyn Verona, Bryanna Fox, 2023-10-31 Now more than ever the criminal justice system and the programs policies and practices within it are subject to increased public scrutiny due to well founded concerns over effectiveness fairness and potential unintended consequences One of the best means to address these concerns is to draw upon evidence based approaches demonstrated to be effective through empirical research rather than through anecdote standard practice or professional experience alone National Institute of Justice 2011 The goal of this book is to describe the most useful actionable and evidence based solutions to many of the most pressing questions in the criminal justice system today Specifically this edited volume contains brief and accessible summaries of the best available research alongside detailed descriptions of evidence based practices across different areas of the criminal justice system It is written so that practitioners and researchers alike can use the text as reference tool in their work and in training the new generation of individuals working to improve the system Researchers and practitioners in many areas of criminal justice crime prevention policing courts prosecution defendants judges corrections sanctions and sentencing can reference specific chapters in this book to guide their policy and practice decisions Although theory is a guide for the practices described the chapters will address practical issues in implementation and action This book overcomes the limitations of previous criminal justice practice books in that it is written as a practice resource and reference guide and spans practices and policies across different sectors of the criminal justice system from prevention to policing to sanctions and corrections Each chapter contains a list of action items based upon the best available scientific research that can be implemented in practice to address key issues and long standing challenges in the criminal justice system Gerontology Madonna Harrington Meyer, Elizabeth A. Daniele, 2016-04-11 Written by established and emerging leaders in a broad array of disciplines this two volume set provides undergraduate and graduate students scholars professionals and policymakers with an overview of the field of aging that examines the social landscape as well as key changes challenges and solutions The people who make up the rapidly growing population of Americans over age 65 are changing and as a result our nation will change This shift presents new issues controversies and challenges that affect health wellness welfare retirement politics and economics This two volume work examines where we are and where we are headed paying careful attention to the differential impacts of gender race class marital status and other social variables It considers key changes in demographics old age policies families work and death and dying Volume one covers an array of demographic issues policies and politics highlighting how factors such as gender and race shape families income retirement immigrants and veterans across the life course The second volume covers education religion volunteering exercise nutrition and health care policies across the life course Topics addressed include the old age welfare state the extension of retirement age home care care work nursing home care end of life planning and euthanasia The Pragmatics of Text Messaging Michelle A. Tinsley, M.Ed., 2020-12-30 An eye opening guide that emphasizes the use of the calculator to pass the GED math exam TI 30XS Life after Foster Care Loring Paul Jones, 2018-08-17 This book apprises readers of the present conditions of former and emancipated foster youth provides evidence based best practices regarding their experiences and proposes new policies for ensuring better outcomes for these children upon discharge from foster care For most American youth the transition to adulthood is gradual and aided by support from parents and others In contrast foster youth are expected to arrive at self sufficiency abruptly and without the same level of support Such an expectation may be due in part to what Loring Paul Jones has found in his research that many of the studies conducted thus far have been fragmented and incomplete often focusing on a particular state or agency that may follow policies not applicable nationwide This book connects the dots between these disparate studies to provide child welfare practitioners policy makers and students with a broader picture of the state of American youth following discharge from foster care It examines not only child welfare policies but also related policies in areas such as housing and education that may contribute to the success or failure of foster youth in society It additionally draws lessons from successful programs to provide readers with the tools needed to develop foster and after care systems that more closely mirror the support afforded to youth in the general population
