

INTRODUCTION: Evidence has been found to indicate that living things have changed gradually during their natural history. The study of fossils as well as embryology, biochemistry, and comparative anatomy provides evidence for evolution. In this lab activity you will learn about homologous, analogous, vestigial structures, fossils, embryology and biochemistry and their significance in evolution theory.

PROCEDURE:HOMOLOGOUS STRUCTURES

1. Carefully examine the drawings of the bones. Look for similarities among the various animals.
 - a. COLOR each part of the human arm a different color using the following key.
 Humerus: Yellow Carpals: Red Radius: Blue Ulna: Green
 Metacarpals: Purple Phalanges: Orange
 - b. In Table 1 (question #2 on the Answer Sheet describe the function of each set of bones and answer the question.)
 - c. Answer question number 3

ANALOGOUS STRUCTURES

1. Examine the butterfly wing and the bird wing. Answer questions 4-6 on the answer sheet.

VESTIGIAL STRUCTURES

1. Gradual changes have occurred through time that have in some cases reduced or removed the function of some body structures and organs. The penguin's wings and the leg bones of snakes are examples of this phenomenon.
2. The cave fish and minnow are related, but the cave fish is blind. Answer questions 7-8 on the answer sheet.

Figure 3

3. Read the list of human vestigial structures in Table 2 (question #9). Suggest a possible function for each structure and explain why it became vestigial. Then complete questions 10-12

EVIDENCE FROM EMBRYOLOGY

1. Evolution occurs slowly. In most cases, it is not possible to observe evolution in progress. However, evidence of evolution can be found by observing the early stages of development in vertebrates. All vertebrate embryos start out similar in appearance. This similarity has led scientists to think that these organisms have a common ancestor. The diagrams below illustrate stages in the embryonic development of a fish, a pig, and a human.
2. Study the diagrams below and answer the questions 13 & 14 on the answer sheet.

Evolution 2.0 Perry Marshall,2015-09-01 In the ongoing debate about evolution science and faith face off But the truth is both sides are right and wrong In one corner Atheists like Richard Dawkins Daniel Dennett and Jerry Coyne They insist evolution happens

by blind random accident Their devout adherence to Neo Darwinism omits the latest science glossing over crucial questions and fascinating details In the other corner Intelligent Design advocates like William Dembski Stephen Meyer and Michael Behe Many defy scientific consensus maintaining that evolution is a fraud and rejecting common ancestry outright There is a third way Evolution 2 0 proves that while evolution is not a hoax neither is it random nor accidental Changes are targeted adaptive and aware You ll discover How organisms re engineer their genetic destiny in real time Amazing systems living things use to re design themselves Every cell is armed with machinery for editing its own DNA The five amazing tools organisms use to alter their genetics 70 years of scientific discoveries of which the public has heard virtually nothing Perry Marshall approached evolution with skepticism for religious reasons As an engineer he rejected the concept of organisms randomly evolving But an epiphany that DNA is code much like data in our digital age sparked a 10 year journey of in depth research into more than 70 years of under reported evolutionary science This led to a new understanding of evolution an evolution 2 0 that not only furthers technology and medicine but fuels our sense of wonder at life itself This book will open your eyes and transform your thinking about evolution and God You ll gain a deeper appreciation for our place in the universe You ll see the world around you as you ve never seen it before Evolution 2 0 pinpoints the central mystery of biology offering a multimillion dollar technology prize at naturalcode.org to the first person who can solve it

Excavation of the Iron Age, Roman and Medieval settlement at Gorhambury, St Albans David S Neal,Angela Wardle,Jonathan

Hunn,2012-01-15 Gorhambury just north of Verulamium was the site of a substantial Roman villa complex which was excavated between 1972 and 1982 as part of a programme designed to test the interrelationships between villa sites in the Verulamium area and to examine trends in their growth decline and prosperity The villa was found to have grown out of a settlement belonging to the late Iron Age A series of ditches of this phase enclosed an aisled barn a nine post granary and a circular house these were the beginnings of a sequence of structures on the same spot which show increasing signs of Roman influence all of which lay within the limits of the farmstead established at this early period Timber buildings of the first half of the first century were followed around AD100 by a small but luxurious villa rebuilt in the late second century and thereafter in a gradual decline until its apparent abandonment around AD 350 Work on virtually the whole of the farmstead area has enabled a full sequence of plans of the main houses and all the ancillary structures including barns subsidiary housing and bath houses to be presented in the report The catalogue of finds is an attempt to show the full range of material recovered from this working farmstead

Agricultural Sustainability and Environmental Change at Ancient Gordion John M. Marston,2017-08-21 This book publishes the results of 220 botanical samples from the 1993 2002 Gordion excavations directed by Mary Voigt Together with Naomi Miller s 2010 volume Gordion Special Studies 5 this book completes the publication of botanical samples from Voigt s excavations The book aims to reconstruct agricultural decision making using archaeological and paleoenvironmental data from Gordion to describe environmental and agricultural changes at the site John M Marston argues that different political and economic systems implemented over time at Gordion resulted in patterns of agricultural decision making that were well adapted to the social setting of farmers in each period but that these practices had divergent environmental impacts with some regimes sponsoring sustainable agricultural practices and others leading to significant environmental change The implications of this book are twofold Gordion will now be one of the best published agricultural datasets from the entire Near East and thus serve as a valuable comparable dataset for regional synthesis of agricultural and environmental change and the methods the author developed to reconstruct agricultural change at Gordion serves as tools to engage questions about the relationship between social and environmental change at sites worldwide Other books address similar themes but none in the Near East address these themes in diachronic perspective such as we have at Gordion University Museum Monograph 145

Progress in Biophysics and Biophysical Chemistry J. A. V. Butler,B. Katz,2016-06-06 Progress in Biophysics and Biophysical Chemistry Volume 7 focuses on the applications of physical or physicochemical ideas and methods to biological problems including the use of isotopes to investigate metabolic processes Other subjects discussed in detail are the electric organs of fishes the thermodynamics of agglutination of red cells muscle structure and function and the structure of bone

This book is comprised of seven chapters and begins with a review of the mechanisms of discharge of electric organs in fish in the contexts of general and comparative electrophysiology paying particular attention to synaptic excitability and the involvement of several electrogenic components in the reflex discharge. The evolution of electric organs in fish is also discussed. The following chapters explore the thermodynamics of isohemagglutinins, use of labeled plasma proteins to study nutritional problems, use of isotopes to analyze intermediary metabolism, and X crystal analysis of bone. The final two chapters are devoted to muscle structure and theories of contraction, chloroplast structure and energy conversion in photosynthesis. This volume will be of interest to biophysicists, physicists, and physical chemists working with biological materials.
