Self-directed learning research: An imperative for transforming the educational landscape Elsa Mentz, Thabisile Buthelezi, Josef de Beer, Adri du Toit, Aubrey Golightly, Sarah Gravett, Marietjie Havenga, Anita Lubbe, Judah P. Makonye, Neal Petersen, Paulinah Phahamane, Jessica Pool, H.J. (Hennie) Steyn, Johannes (Hannes) L. van der Walt, Charl Wolhuter, 2016-12-31 This book will benefit specialists in the field of the education sciences It represents significant progress in knowledge production Self directed learning has become increasingly important not only for education in South Africa but also for education sciences in the international arena This is a result of the changing education landscape caused by the demands of the 21st century as well as the rapid change in knowledge production Learners should be equipped with skills to take responsibility for their own learning New innovative strategies should be incorporated into teaching and learning in order to meet the changing demands in education Traditional teacher centred practices are still the norm in most South African schools and higher education institutions and do not adequately prepare students for lifelong learning in the 21st century The content focuses on the theory behind self directed learning explores strategies such as cooperative learning problembased learning case based teaching and large group teaching that enhance self directed learning and the use of blended learning in a self directed learning environment The book demonstrates how self directed learning can be enhanced in mathematics computer science and life science education and through the use of student tutors for geography Digital technology could for example also be used in innovative ways for education in isiZulu folk poetry The findings are based on original empirical research and a sound theoretical conceptual framework In an environment of rapidly changing knowledge production this book responds to the challenge of how to equip learners with the necessary skills to take responsibility for their own learning The book presents innovative teaching and learning strategies for meeting the changing demands in education Group activities the responsibilities of learners and the obstacles that hinder their learning are analysed and the way in which educators can support them is discussed Educational values such as mutual trust are discussed and self directed assessment is explored This is a timely collective work authored by experts who subscribe to the approach of self directed learning Educators should discover new teaching and learning strategies and value the integration of self directed learning in the classroom The Southern Bantu Languages Clement M. Doke, 2017-09-20 For the purposes of this volume originally published in 1954 two southern zones of Bantu have been included south of the Zambesi and east of the Kalahari The book discusses the phonetic and morphological characteristics of these 2 zones and a classification of the groups clusters and dialects is provided For comparative purposes detailed information on some striking dialectical forms is given in the appendices Bernard Quaritch Bernard Quaritch (Firm), 1872 Stand-up Comedy in Africa Izuu Nwankwo, 2022-03-21 African cultural productions of humour have increased even in the face of myriad economic foibles and social upheavals For instance from the 1990s stand up comedy emerged across the continent and has maintained a pervasive presence since then Its specificities are related to contemporary economic and political contexts and are also drawn from its pre colonial history that of joking forms and relationships and orality Izuu Nwankwo's fascinating collected volume offers a transnational appraisal of this unique art form spanning different nations of the continent and its diasporas The book engages variously with jokesters their materials the mediums of dissemination and the cultural value s and relevance of their stage work encompassing the form and content of the practice Its ruling theoretical perspective comes from theatre and performance cultural studies linguistics and literary studies Electoral Territoriality in Southern Africa Stephen Rule, 2017-11-01 This title was first published in 2000 A comprehensive comparison of voting patterns in seven countries of Southern Africa The modern democratic electoral histories of Botswana Lesotho Namibia South Africa Swaziland Zambia and Zimbabwe are placed within the contexts of their pre colonial and colonial polities The extent to which urbanization and the regional distribution of language ethnicity and race impacts on the electoral geography of the sub continent is demonstrated statistically and cartographically The analysis is complemented by anecdotal evidence gathered during personal interviews and discussions with voters politicians government officials and academics Unisa English Studies University of South Africa. Department of English,1992 The Geographical Journal ,1894 New African Intellectuals and New African Political Thought in the Twentieth Century Mbukeni Herbert Mnguni,2015 This book is purposely and deliberately entitled New African Intellectuals and New African Political Thought in the Twentieth Century It encapsulates the recent debate about the political and cultural role played by the New African intellectuals in developing modern African political thought The authors argue that the New African Intellectuals was a culturally and politically dominant movement of the twentieth century despite the fact that it was suppressed and oppressed by white colonialism and racism It was a political and cultural expression of the oppressed and disposed people During its cultural and political splay the New African Intellectuals was preoccupied with three inseparable historical issues forming the concept of the New African constructing the foundations of African modernity and formulating the principles of African Nationalism Offering fresh insights that are both empirically and theoretically informed this book illuminates the processes and consequences of the New African scholars and writers The political contribution made by the New African intellectuals is traced from its origins in literature music and language The discussion concludes with an exploration of the dilemma faced by African languages as they are dominated by European languages The authors argue that this dominance has resulted to the petrification and mummification of African languages because outstanding even great African writers are not using them in relation to modern technological and linguistic experience The authors believe that this broad ranging book will be of interest to all those studying African politics and culture and who are concerned with understanding modern African societies in the light of post colonialism South African national bibliography State Library (South Africa),1996 Classified list with author and title index The Bantu Languages Mark Van de Velde,Koen Bostoen,Derek Nurse,Gérard Philippson,2019-01-30 Written by an international team of experts this comprehensive volume presents grammatical analyses of individual Bantu languages comparative studies of their main phonetic phonological and grammatical characteristics and overview chapters on their history and classification It is estimated that some 300 to 350 million people or one in three Africans are Bantu speakers Van de Velde and Bostoen bring together their linguistic expertise to produce a volume that builds on Nurse and Philippson s first edition The Bantu Languages 2nd edition is divided into two parts Part 1 contains 11 comparative chapters and Part 2 provides grammar sketches of 12 individual Bantu languages some of which were previously undescribed The grammar sketches follow a general template that allows for easy comparison Thoroughly revised and updated to include more language descriptions and the latest comparative insights New to this edition new chapters on syntax tone reconstruction and language contact 12 new
