Handbook of Comparative World Steel Standards, 2004

Model Code 2010 - Final draft

fib Fédération internationale du béton, 2012-01-01 The objectives of MC2010 are to serve as a basis for future codes for concrete structures and to present new developments with regard to concrete structures structural materials and new ideas in order to achieve optimum behaviour MC2010 includes the whole life cycle of a concrete structure from design and construction to conservation assessment maintenance strengthening and dismantlement in one code for buildings bridges and other civil engineering structures Design is largely based on performance requirements The chapter on materials is extended with new types of concrete and reinforcement such as fibres and non metallic reinforcements The fib Model Code 2010 also gives corresponding explanations in a separate column of the document Additionally MC2010 is supported by background documents that have already been or will soon be published in fib bulletins and journal articles MC2010 is now the most comprehensive code on concrete structures including their complete life cycle conceptual design dimensioning construction conservation and dismantlement

Reinforcement for Modern Concrete Structures Khan Mahmud Amanat, 2025-03-26 There are a lot of excellent textbooks on the design of reinforced concrete structures However based on professional experience of more than thirty years the author feels that a separate book dedicated only to discuss the properties behavior and use of reinforcement in concrete construction is highly justified Conventional textbooks on concrete structures focus primarily on the mechanics of reinforced concrete design Properties of reinforcement are discussed in a limited manner only those which are deemed just adequate for discussing the theory of concrete mechanics Typically such books contain little or no background information or explanation as to why the various code provisions or rules regarding the reinforcement are imposed or formulated It is observed that the application of modern materials and technologies in reinforcement manufacturing does not get proper attention or consideration in the engineering practices of many professionals Based on the interaction with many engineers engaged in the design and construction of concrete structures the author feels that there is a lack of the essential background knowledge of the engineering properties and behavior of concrete reinforcement among many of them And such a lack of knowledge often leads to improper implementation of the code design provisions Limited scope of our existing engineering curricula is primarily responsible for this This book has been written with an aim to fill this gap and to make engineering students and practicing engineers more up to date
