Take a moment to picture the four seasons. Leaves falling in autumn, snow blanketing the ground in winter, waves crashing during the summer, and flowers blooming in the spring. There are so many wonderful changes with each season. My favorite season is autumn. I enjoy the leaves and pumpkins during autumn. Put on a sweater as we spend time exploring autumn.

To begin with, autumn leaves are beautiful. My grandmother has two huge trees in her front yard. Every autumn the leaves turn gorgeous shades of yellow, orange, and brown. Gently, leaves fall from the trees scattering upon the grass underneath. We rake the leaves into a huge pile. When the pile is stacked high, we get a running start and pounce into the leaves. The leaves fly into the air like a huge explosion. Also, my dad takes us for a ride in the country. The roads are lined with hundreds of trees. It is amazing to see the autumn colors filling the sky. The leaves during autumn are breathtaking.

Next, pumpkins are popular vegetables during autumn. Each year our city has an enormous pumpkin patch. My parents and I visit the patch to choose our pumpkin. Diligently, I look hard to find the biggest, brightest pumpkin in the patch. It is awesome to see hundreds of pumpkins scattered on the ground. My mom always gets an extra pumpkin to make a pie. When we arrive at home, my dad and I begin carving the pumpkin. We draw a funny looking face with a marker before cutting it out. My favorite part is pulling out the guts. They are so slimy that my hands get sticky. Pumpkins are a wonderful part of autumn.

In short, autumn is the season I enjoy the most. I like the leaves and pumpkins. Autumn will be here very soon!

Expository Text Grade 5:

Upper Elementary Reading Lessons Marilyn J. Chambliss, Linda Valli, 2011-07-16 Engaging students in worthwhile learning requires more than a knowledge of underlying principles of good teaching. It demands considerable practice as well as images of what good teaching in particular situations and for particular purposes might look like. This volume provides these images. These cases were written from authentic unrehearsed lessons taught by upper elementary classroom teachers to diverse groups of real students in intact classrooms. Each lesson contains elements of sound instructional practice from which both preservice and in-service teachers can benefit. Cases are not meant to be ideal but rather to evoke ways of seeing and thinking about good classroom instruction for all learners. Accompanied by analytic commentaries from experts representing a particular perspective such as special education and ESOL, these unrehearsed cases are written with the understanding that teaching is complex and multi-dimensional. The cases are drawn from a four-year study of 4th and 5th grade mathematics instruction of culturally diverse classrooms with relatively high rates of students from low-income families. Storytown Ride the Edge Theme 3 Grade 5 Harcourt School Publishers, Isabel L. Beck, 2005.

Talking Texts Rosalind Horowitz, 2017-09-25 This volume examines how oral and written language function in school learning and how oral texts can be successfully interconnected to the written texts that are used on a daily basis in schools. Rather than argue for the prominence of one over the other, the goal is to help the reader gain a rich understanding of how both might work together to create a new discourse that ultimately creates new knowledge. Talking Texts Provides historical background for the study of talk and text. Presents examples of children's and adolescents' natural conversations as analyzed by linguists. Addresses talk as it interfaces with domains of knowledge taught in schools to show how talk is related to and may be influenced by the structure, language, and activities of a specific discipline. Bringing together seminal lines of research to create a cohesive picture of discourse issues germane to classrooms and other learning settings, this volume is an essential resource for researchers, graduate students, classroom teachers, and curriculum specialists across the fields of discourse studies, literacy, and English education, composition studies, language development, sociolinguistics, and applied linguistics.

Research-Based Practices for Teaching Common Core Literacy P. David Pearson, Elfrieda H. Hiebert, 2015 This one-of-a-kind resource will be invaluable to every teacher, educator, every curriculum director, and every literacy coach, whether or not they must meet Common Core Standards. Bringing together perspectives from literacy luminaries, each addressing their specialty, this book offers an accessible fund of rich practices in literacy instruction. The book serves two purposes. First, it assembles a body of knowledge and wisdom from leading literacy researchers who each draw from a long career in the field to address topics of central importance to good literacy instruction. Second, these research-to-practice leaders connect established best practices and foundational research to the current challenge of instruction to meet Common Core Standards and other rigorous curriculum guidelines. The contributors point out strengths

Children's Early Text Construction Clotilde Pontecorvo, Margherita Orsolini, Barbara Burge, Lauren B.

Resnick, 2014-02-04 For decades research on children's literacy has been dominated by questions of how children learn to read Especially among Anglophone scholars cognitive and psycholinguistic research on reading has been the only approach to studying written language education Echoing this debates on methods of teaching children to read have long dominated the educational scene This book presents an alternative view In recent years writing has emerged as a central aspect of becoming literate Research in cognitive psychology has shown that writing is a highly complex activity involving a degree of planning unknown in everyday conversational uses of language At the same time developmental studies have revealed that when young children are asked to write they show a surprisingly sophisticated understanding of the representational constraints of alphabetic writing systems They show this understanding long before they can read conventional writing on their own The rich structure of meanings involved in the word text provided the glue that brought together a group of scholars from several disciplines in an international workshop held in Rome Reflecting the state of the field at the time the majority of the workshop participants were scholars working in languages other than English especially the romance languages Their work mirrors a linguistic and psychological research tradition that Anglophone scholars knew little of until recently This volume provides English language readers with updated versions of the papers presented at the meeting The topics discussed at the workshop are represented in the chapters as follows the relationship between acquisition of language and familiarity with written texts the reciprocal permeability between spoken and written language the initial phases of text construction by children and the educational conditions that facilitate written language acquisition and writing practice
