Federal Trade Commission Decisions United States. Federal Trade Commission,1985 Hollywood Vault Eric Hoyt,2014-07-03 Hollywood Vault is the story of how the business of film libraries emerged and evolved spanning the silent era to the sale of feature libraries to television Eric Hoyt argues that film libraries became valuable not because of the introduction of new technologies but because of the emergence and growth of new markets and suggests that studying the history of film libraries leads to insights about their role in the contemporary digital marketplace The history begins in the mid 1910s when the star system and other developments enabled a market for old films that featured current stars After the transition to films with sound the reissue market declined but the studios used their libraries for the production of remakes and other derivatives The turning point in the history of studio libraries occurred during the mid to late 1940s when changes in American culture and an industry wide recession convinced the studios to employ their libraries as profit centers through the use of theatrical reissues In the 1950s intermediary distributors used the growing market of television to harness libraries aggressively as foundations for cross media expansion a trend that continues today By the late 1960s the television marketplace and the exploitation of film libraries became so lucrative that they prompted conglomerates to acquire the studios The first book to discuss film libraries as an important and often underestimated part of Hollywood history Hollywood Vault presents a fascinating trajectory that incorporates cultural legal and industrial history Focus On: 100 Most Popular Television Series by 20th Century Fox Television Wikipedia contributors, Popular Science ,1985-08 Popular Science gives our readers the information and tools to improve their technology and their world The core belief that Popular Science and our readers share The future is going to be better and science and technology are the driving forces that will help make it better Radio and Television Patricia Beall Hamill,United States.
