The book may teach different life-lessons, but what theme do you think the author was striving to accomplish most?

The author refers to himself as the "old" Brian and "new" Brian. Do you think one of the Brian's is a "better" Brian or just a "different"?

What "developed" character trait was most instrumental in helping Brian survive?

In the beginning of the book, Brian is consumed with disappointment and bitterness about his parents divorce. As the plot progresses, he becomes less and less fixated on the divorce and secret. What do you think his parent's divorce consumes his thought less and less as the plot develops?

Is Brian lucky?

Does positive thinking help people survive and/or thrive in difficult situations?

The author uses the words "weakest tears." What is the author implying? Is crying a bad thing?

Was there a "silver lining" in Brian's experience?

Should people change or adjust their hopes and dreams based on "current" situations?

What bigger idea could the Hatchet be symbolizing?
