Department of Education,1916 SRA Open Court Reading ,2002 , Self-directed Learning Oriented Assessments in the Asia-Pacific Magdalena Mo Ching Mok,2012-10-08 The Asia Pacific region needs to maximize the benefits of education to enable it to compete in an economic future dominated by innovation in which assessing student progress must be an empowering rather than delimiting factor This detailed exposition of the theoretical basis and application tools of self directed learning oriented assessment SLOA reflects the very latest research championed by the Assessment Research Centre at The Hong Kong Institute of Education Featuring a range of relevant case studies it explores the varied theoretical issues related to SLOA and offers an integrated view of the system fully in line with the constructivist paradigm of learning which advocates formative rather than summative assessment Many of the initiatives outlined here are firsts in the region SLOA is already being applied in many schools with links to the ARC It is an approach to assessment that acknowledges the centrality of self directed learning and which positions assessment as a tool to enable and enhance self directed learning It draws on several theories of learning and assessment including the constructivist notion that learning is best achieved when students take ownership of their educational process setting their own goals and monitoring their own progress towards those goals SLOA has been the research and service approach of the ARC since 2005 In the intervening years the centre has developed a number of tools to facilitate SLOA learning and assessment including vertical ability scales teacher friendly computer software and packages for self directed learning Reaching Higher Rhona S.

Weinstein,2009-07-01 She has a funny way of looking at you a fourth grader told Rhona Weinstein about his teacher She gets that look and says I am very disappointed in you I hate it when she does that It makes me feel like I m stupid Just crazy stupid dumb Even young children know what adults think of them All too often they live down to expectations as well as up to them This book is about the context in which expectations play themselves out Drawing upon a generation of research on self fulfilling prophecies in education including the author s own extensive fieldwork in schools Reaching Higher argues that our expectations of children are often too low With compelling case studies Weinstein shows that children typed early as not very smart can go on to accomplish far more than is expected of them by an educational system with too narrow a definition of ability and the way abilities should be nurtured Weinstein faults the system pointing out that teachers themselves are harnessed by policies that do not enable them to reach higher for all children Her analysis takes us beyond current reforms that focus on accountability for test results With rich descriptions of effective classrooms and schools Weinstein makes a case for a changed system that will make the most of every child and enable students and teachers to engage more meaningfully in learning Engaging the Brain Marcia L. Tate,2024-08-26 Create unforgettable learning experiences for your students What can you do when students would rather socialize than pay attention to your lesson When students appear to lack motivation how do teachers ensure that learning sticks How can you best respond to learning loss caused by the pandemic In this new edition of Marcia Tate s wildly bestselling Worksheets Don t Grow Dendrites 20 field tested brain compatible instructional strategies designed to maximize memory are supported by new classroom applications and research In each chapter devoted to an individual strategy you ll discover The latest research on how the brain benefits when the strategy is used How the strategy engages all students and addresses common behavior problems Sample classroom activities for various grade levels that teachers can implement immediately Action plans for incorporating each strategy to accelerate learning When students actively engage in learning they stand a much better chance of retaining what we want them to know

As students face setbacks and learning gaps it s imperative that we quickly bridge these divides by teaching them in the way
