

Name: Rebecca Brody	Subject/Grade: 8th Grade English Language Arts	Date:
Unit Name: Persuasive Writing
Theme: Belief Essential Question for Unit: What is persuasion? Why do we argue? Topical Question for Lesson: What is an argument? How can you prove/support your point? Standards for Lesson Plan: W.8.1-Write arguments to support claims with clear reasons and relevant evidence.
Lesson Objective (Turn topical question into a statement) Students will understand/know/will be able to...
Students will know what an argument and its supporting evidence are. Students will understand author's purpose. Students will be able to identify author's purpose when given a piece of text. Students will be able to highlight an author's argument and supporting evidence when given a piece of text. Students will be able to create an argument and support it with reasoning and evidence in essay form.
Assessment How will students demonstrate that they have learned the skill or content?
Informative: double-entry journal -I will collect and use these to ensure that students understand the concepts of argument and supporting evidence. This will allow me to add instructional time to address these concepts if students do not grasp it before moving on to students writing their own arguments with supporting evidence.
Formative: I Believe... - Persuasive Essay
Hook How will you engage students in today's lesson?
Video Clip: Saved By the Bell- The Power of Zach's Persuasion and Subliminal Messaging Purpose: Engage students and show how persuasion can be used in a real world situation in an entertaining fashion.
I Do (BEFORE/Prereading) Review content/skill or preview today's content/skill Activate Background Knowledge Model
Day 1: Author's Purpose- Whole Group Purpose: This activity is designed to give students the knowledge necessary to move forward with the lesson through a class discussion and a vocabulary introduction.
Introduction "Today we are going to discuss why authors write or their purpose for writing. Specifically we are going to talk about the 3 most common purposes. -Can someone raise their hand and tell me why you think an author chooses to write?"
To Inform: the author's goal is to enlighten the reader about real world topics by providing facts. The facts are presented in order to teach the reader, not to persuade. Examples of texts

Voices of Experience Janet Giannotti, 2015-03-16 This book is a collection of strategies and tips collected through a survey of 80 practicing ESL professionals as well as a series of conversations with the author's colleagues. The book reveals teachers' motivations for choosing certain techniques. A unique feature of the book is the thinking that underlies teachers' choices in terms of how they manage their classroom. Voices of Experience was designed and written with teachers in training and seasoned professionals in mind; the book would be used differently by each. The book has five units: The Classroom Environment, Lesson Planning, Pair and Group Work, Classroom Interactions, and Classroom Trouble Spots. Each unit has two or three chapters that discuss the survey responses and relevant quotes from participants. Each unit concludes with a Connections section that features Challenging Beliefs, What Teachers Think, which presents a statement for readers to respond to and compare their responses to others who completed the survey; Classroom Connections, What Teachers Do, which lists reflection or discussion questions; Strategies and Motivations, What Teachers Say, which presents more quotes from respondents, particularly those that look at what's behind teachers' choices. These too could be used for reflection or discussion.
