Nip/Tuck Roz Kaveney, Jennifer Stoy, 2011-07-22 Promoted as a disturbingly perfect and deeply shallow television drama and created by Ryan Murphy who is also behind the teen musical show Glee Nip Tuck has been one of the most popular and controversial shows on cable TV The misadventures and soap opera esque entanglements of the lives of plastic surgeons Christian Troy Julian McMahon and Sean McNamara Dylan Walsh won Golden Globes and boycotts from the American Family Association Yet as this first full critical examination of Nip Tuck shows ironically the show is an examination of the American family and its many definitions anxieties and complications of gender and sexuality and the class issues and illusions surrounding the American dream It is also revealed as a glorious televisual melodrama full of Gothic tropes and contemporary sensationalism and at the same time a deeply misanthropic satire on the American dream with a sometimes highly problematic portrayal of women and minorities The book also features an interview with frequent Nip Tuck director Elodie Keene and an episode guide

Legitimizing Television Michael Z Newman,Elana Levine,2012-02-27 Legitimizing Television Media Convergence and Cultural Status explores how and why television is gaining a new level of cultural respectability in the 21st century Once looked down upon as a plug in drug offering little redeeming social or artistic value television is now said to be in a creative renaissance with critics hailing the rise of Quality series such as Mad Men and 30 Rock Likewise DVDs and DVRs web video HDTV and mobile devices have shifted the longstanding conception of television as a household appliance toward a new understanding of TV as a sophisticated high tech gadget Newman and Levine argue that television's growing prestige emerges alongside the convergence of media at technological, industrial and experiential levels. Television is permitted to rise in respectability once it is connected to more highly valued media and audiences. Legitimation works by denigrating ordinary television associated with the past, distancing the television of the present from the feminized and mass audiences assumed to be inherent to the old TV. It is no coincidence that the most validated programming and technologies of the convergence era are associated with a more privileged viewership. The legitimation of television articulates the medium with the masculine over the feminine, the elite over the mass, reinforcing cultural hierarchies that have long perpetuated inequalities of gender and class. Legitimizing Television urges readers to move beyond the question of taste, whether TV is good or bad, and to focus instead on the cultural, political and economic issues at stake in television's transformation in the digital age.

Playing Doctor Joseph Turow, 2010-08-26

Joe Turow's Playing Doctor disquiets and challenges the reader's intellect with cogent analysis of the forces that have shaped television's portrayal of doctors and the medical world. For that alone, it is a fantastic read. But Dr. Turow also pleases the mind with well-written and amusing stories, interviews and behind-the-scenes anecdotes that bring to life in an eminently readable style the fascinating world of TV medicine. David Foster, M.D., supervising producer, writer and medical consultant for House. Joseph Turow takes us behind the scenes of such hit television series as ER, Grey's Anatomy and House to reveal the complex relationship viewers have with their beloved fictional caregivers. Turow carefully probes the history of TV medical series and presents a compelling argument for telling more truthful medical stories in the future to reflect and address the precarious state of our health care system today. Neal Baer, M.D., executive producer of Law Order: Special Victims Unit. The great contribution of Turow's book, in addition to providing a highly readable and smart overview of medical shows over the years, is to examine the consequences of the gap between the reality of medical care and the often romanticized heroic depictions on television. This would be a very good book for professors to use in teaching a range of courses in communications studies, from introductory courses to more specialized classes on health and the media. Susan Douglas, Catherine Neafie Kellogg, Professor Arthur F. Thurnau, Professor Communications Studies Department Chair, University of Michigan. Playing Doctor is an engaging and highly perceptive history of the medical TV series from its inception to the present day. Turow offers an inside look at the creation of iconic doctor shows as well as a detailed history of the programs, an analysis of changing public perceptions of doctors and medicine, and an insightful commentary on how medical dramas have both exploited and shaped these perceptions. Drawing on extensive interviews with creators, directors and producers, Playing Doctor is a classic in the field of communications studies. This expanded edition includes a new introduction placing the book in the contemporary context of the health care crisis, as well as new chapters covering the intervening twenty years of television programming. Turow uses recent research and interviews with principals in contemporary television doctor shows such as ER, Grey's Anatomy, House and Scrubs to illuminate the extraordinary ongoing cultural influence of medical shows. Playing Doctor situates the television vision of medicine as a limitless high tech resource against the realities underlying the health care debate both yesterday and today Joseph Turow is Robert Lewis Shayon Professor at the Annenberg School for Communication University of Pennsylvania He was named a Distinguished Scholar by the National Communication Association and a Fellow of the International Communication Association in 2010 He has authored eight books edited five and written more than 100 articles on mass media industries He has also produced a DVD titled Prime Time Doctors Why Should You Care that has been distributed to all first year medical students with the support of the Robert Wood Johnson Foundation Praise for the first edition of Playing Doctor With Playing Doctor Joseph Turow has established himself as one of the foremost analytic historians of the interplay between television its audiences and other American institutions George Comstock S I Newhouse Professor at the Newhouse School of Public Communications Syracuse University in Health Affairs Cover image Eric Dane Kate Walsh Sara Ramirez and crew members on the set of Grey s Anatomy American Broadcasting Company Inc
