Baird, Debra Mollen, 2023-04-18 The Internship Practicum and Field

Placement Handbook offers real world knowledge of the skills interns in the helping professions need through every phase of their internship practicum or field placement. The focus is on topics that may not have been addressed or fully developed through regular academic coursework: meeting clients, fees for service, supervision ethics, legal issues, diversity, clinical writing, case notes and clinical records, personal safety, self care, advocacy, technology, termination and planning for the future. Every phase of the internship is discussed sequentially from finding and preparing for placements to concluding relationships with clients and supervisors. Drawing from the fields of psychology, counseling, social work, school counseling and psychiatry, this edition has been thoroughly updated with the latest research and clinical literature, ethical codes of the leading professions and legal and regulatory developments at federal and state levels. This edition also features up to date coverage of remote education, training, supervision and practice as impacted by Covid 19 and technological changes. Diversity awareness and insights are woven through every element of the text, taking into account recent developments such as Black Lives Matter, the MeToo movement, gender identity awareness. Other emerging issues are also addressed, including the impact of the opioid epidemic and substance abuse deaths and the ethical legal issues that may arise relating to reproductive health and abortion related legislation. In text exercises and thought problems are incorporated into each chapter for students to develop insights and skills. Eleven online appendices are also included, containing learning plans, supervision agreements, evaluation forms and ethical guidelines that students will need in preparation for the next phase of their training. The Internship Practicum and Field Placement Handbook is an invaluable resource for students, faculty and supervisors engaged in the challenging experience of transitioning from academia into clinical training in the field. The Internship, Practicum, and Field Placement Handbook Brian N. Baird, 2007. Acknowledging, anticipating and addressing the everyday questions, anxieties, fears and concerns of interns, this practical handbook bridges the gap between academic coursework and the knowledge, skills and emotional challenges that are found in the real world of the helping professions. Incorporating the newest version of the APA ethics code, the federal HIPAA regulations and the applications of technology to treatment and record keeping, this book contains the most recent research and literature pertaining to internship training, ethics and legal issues, supervision, self care, record keeping, risk management and more. Professionals and interns involved with internships, practicums and field placements in Psychology, Social Work, Counseling and related helping disciplines. Demystifying the School Psychology Internship Daniel S. Newman, 2013-03-05. If you are a doctoral or non doctoral student about to begin your internship in school psychology, you may have several questions about the process and what it will involve, and you may even be facing some anxiety about it. If you are a site or university supervisor preparing for the beginning of the internship year, you may be looking for ways to improve the internship experience for your students or for yourself and your fellow supervisors. Newman has used his many years of experience working with interns and field supervisors to create this guide to the school psychology internship process to address these common concerns. He provides a comprehensive overview of the school psychology internship process from start to finish describing actions that can be taken to promote a high quality dynamic internship experience Emphasis is placed on the idea that the internship year is a dynamic and formative experience not a static event and that interns and supervisors both must be active planners coordinators and shapers of the experience Each part of the book explores a different phase of the internship from the first days through job applications and interviews Helpful and pragmatic tools are included throughout such as evaluation tools best practice guidelines and sample forms Online resources are also available to complement the book and include reproducible material from the book videos students can use to practice their interviewing skills and links to helpful resources
