I caught fire coding.

I always thought my dream was to be a proofreader for a little indie publishing company, sipping my cafe con leche and reading the opening lines to the next best-selling vampire novel. It seemed like an appropriate dream given my BA in English. I gravitated toward proofreading and quality control positions and even started my own proofreading business. But I kind of just felt meh. I yearned to learn more, yearned to learn something different.

And that's when it happened; the spark I was missing ignited the instant I clicked play on my first Python tutorial video. (I mean seriously, how could it not be great when it's named after Monty Python's Flying Circus?) Since then, I can't get enough. Front-end web development calls to all my passions; it incorporates creativity and problem solving and I'm allowed to break it to improve the code (in a separate Git branch, of course).

I love applying responsive design principles and watching my web pages shrink into mobile screens and still look amazing. It's oddly satisfying. I think in a way I'm kind of like those web pages; I'm moldable, but I still keep my creative flare intact.

My specialties include quickly learning new skills and programming languages, problem solving, responsive design principles, website optimization, and the Model View View Model (MVVM) and Model View Controller (MVC) methods of organizing code. So far I have JavaScript, HTML, CSS, C#, Python, jQuery, Bootstrap, Knockout, AngularJS, Jasmine, Grunt, and Git/GitHub under my belt. I've started learning Node.JS, MongoDB, and Express.JS. I'm still enthusiastically grabbing onto any other programming languages, frameworks, or principles I can integrate into the coding web in my head.

Auto/biography in Canada Julie Rak, 2009-08-02 Auto biography in Canada Critical Directions widens the field of auto biography studies with its sophisticated multidisciplinary perspectives on the theory criticism and practice of self community and representation Rather than considering autobiography and biography as discrete genres with definable properties and rather than focusing on critical approaches the essays explore auto biography as a discourse about identity and representation in the context of numerous disciplinary shifts Auto biography in Canada looks at how life narratives are made in Canada Originating from literary studies history and social work the essays in this collection cover topics that range from queer Canadian autobiography autobiography and autism and newspaper death notices as biography to Canadian autobiography and the Holocaust Grey Owl and authenticity France Thoret and autofiction and a new reading of Stolen Life the collaborative text by Yvonne Johnson and Rudy Wiebe Julie Rak's useful big picture introduction traces the history of auto biography studies in Canada While the contributors chart disciplinary shifts taking place in auto biography studies their essays are also part of the ongoing scholarship that is remaking ways to understand Canada

The Autobiographical Documentary in America Jim Lane, 2002-04-29 Since the late 1960s American film and video makers of all genres have been fascinated with themes of self and identity Though the documentary form is most often used to capture the lives of others Jim Lane turns his lens on those media makers who document their own lives and identities He looks at the ways in which autobiographical documentaries including Roger and Me Sherman's March and Silverlake Life raise weighty questions about American cultural life What is the role of women in society What does it mean to die from AIDS How do race and class play out in our personal lives What does it mean to be a member of a family Examining the history diversity and theoretical underpinnings of this increasingly popular documentary form Lane tracks a fundamental transformation of notions of both autobiography and documentary

Handbook of Autobiography / Autofiction Martina Wagner-Egelhaaf, 2019-01-29 Autobiographical writings have been a major cultural genre from antiquity to the present time General questions of the literary as e.g. the relation between literature and reality truth and fiction the dependency of author narrator and figure or issues of individual and cultural styles etc. can be studied preeminently in the autobiographical genre Yet the tradition of life writing has in the course of literary history developed manifold types and forms Especially in the globalized age where the media and other technological cultural factors contribute to a rapid transformation of lifestyles autobiographical writing has maintained even enhanced its popularity and importance By conceiving autobiography in a wide sense that includes memoirs diaries self portraits and autofiction as well as media transformations of the genre this three volume handbook offers a comprehensive survey of theoretical approaches systematic aspects and historical developments in an international and interdisciplinary perspective While autobiography is usually considered to be a European tradition special emphasis is placed on the modes of self representation in non Western cultures and on inter and transcultural perspectives of the genre The individual contributions are closely interconnected by a system of cross references The handbook addresses scholars of cultural and literary studies students as well as non academic readers

Autobiography of intercultural encounters Martyn Barrett, Michael Byram, 2022-11-30 A tool for developing intercultural competence and facilitating the emergence of intercultural citizenship in those who use it In the contemporary world encounters with people from other cultural backgrounds have become part of our everyday lives These intercultural encounters may be used as an opportunity to learn about other cultures to develop our capacities for effective and respectful communication to think about our own cultural affiliations and to reflect on ways in which we might take action for the common good The Autobiography of intercultural encounters AIE is an educational resource that can be used by learners to achieve all of these outcomes It supports learners in thinking about and learning from intercultural encounters that they have experienced either face to face through visual media such as television films magazines or through the internet Revised and updated editions of the various versions of the AIE that have been developed can be found in three separate volumes which accompany the present volume The present volume contains two accompanying papers Context concepts and theories and Concepts for discussion The former discusses the policy context and conceptual and theoretical issues relating to intercultural encounters and is intended for readers who wish to understand the ideas that underlie the design of the AIE The latter provides less technical discussions of key concepts related to culture identity and intercultural encounters and can be used with learners in upper secondary education or the early years of higher education and in non formal and informal education

Reading Autobiography Now Sidonie Smith, Julia Watson, 2024-07-09 A user friendly guide to reading writing and theorizing autobiographical texts and practices for students scholars and practitioners of life narrative The boom in autobiographical narratives continues apace It now encompasses a global spectrum of texts and practices in such media as graphic memoir auto photography performance and plastic arts film and video and online platforms Reading Autobiography Now offers both a critical engagement with life narrative in historical perspective and a theoretical framework for interpreting texts and practices in this wide ranging field Hailed upon its initial publication as the Whole Earth Catalog of autobiography studies this essential book has been updated reorganized and expanded in scope to serve as an accessible and contemporary guide for scholars students and practitioners Sidonie Smith and Julia Watson explore definitions of life narrative probe issues of subjectivity and outline salient features of autobiographical acts and practices In this updated edition they address emergent topics such as autotheory autofiction and autoethnography expand the discussions of identity relationality and agency and introduce new material on autobiographical archives and the profusion of I s in contemporary works Smith and Watson also provide a helpful toolkit of strategies for reading life narrative and an extensive glossary of mini essays analyzing key theoretical concepts and dozens of autobiographical genres An indispensable exploration of this expansive transnational multimedia field Reading Autobiography Now meticulously unpacks the heterogeneous modes of life narratives through which people tell their stories from traditional memoirs and trauma narratives to collaborative life narrative and autobiographical comics

The Autobiographical Self in Time and Culture Qi Wang, 2013-07-26 In this volume Qi Wang traces the developmental social cultural and historical origins of the autobiographical self the self that is made of memories of the personal past and of the family and the community Wang combines rigorous research sensitive survey of real memories and memory conversations and fascinating personal anecdotes into a state of the art book As a marginal woman who grew up in the East and works and lives in the West Wang's analysis is unique insightful and approachable Her accounts of her own family stories extraordinarily careful and thorough documentation of research findings and compelling theoretical insights together convey an unequivocal message The autobiographical self is conditioned by one's time and culture Beginning with a perceptive examination of the form content and function of parent child conversations of personal and family stories Wang undertakes to show how the autobiographical self is formed in and shaped by the process of family storytelling situated in specific cultural contexts By contrasting the development of autobiographical writings in Western and Chinese literatures Wang seeks to demonstrate the cultural stance of the autobiographical self in historical time She examines the autobiographical self in personal time thoughtfully analyzing the form structure and content of everyday memories to reveal the role of culture in modulating information processing and determining how the autobiographical self is remembered Focusing on memories of early childhood Wang seeks to answer the question of when the autobiographical self begins from a cross cultural perspective She sets out further to explore some of the most controversial issues in current psychological research of autobiographical memory focusing particularly on issues of memory representations versus memory narratives and silence versus voice in the construction of the autobiographical self appropriate to one's cultural assumptions She concludes with historical analyses of the influences of the larger social political and economic forces on the autobiographical self and takes a forward look at the autobiographical self as a product of modern technology

Romantic Autobiography in England Eugene Stelzig, 2016-04-08 Taking into account the popularity and variety of the genre this collaborative volume considers a wide range of English Romantic autobiographical writers and modes including working class autobiography the familiar essay and the staged presence In the wake of Rousseau's Confessions autobiography became an increasingly popular as well as a literary mode of writing By the early nineteenth century this hybrid and metamorphic genre is found everywhere in English letters in prose and poetry by men and women of all classes As such it resists attempts to provide a coherent historical account or establish a neat theoretical paradigm The contributors to Romantic Autobiography in England embrace the challenge focusing not only on major writers such as William Wordsworth

De Quincey and Mary Shelley but on more recent additions to the canon such as Mary Robinson Dorothy Wordsworth and Mary Hays There are also essays on the scandalous Memoirs of Mrs Billington and on Joseph Severn s autobiographical scripting of himself as the friend of Keats The result is an exploratory and provisional mapping of the field provocative rather than exhaustive intended to inspire future scholarship and teaching

Autobiography in Shakespeare's Plays William Nicholas Knight,2002 Shakespeare s authorship of his plays can no longer be in doubt with this book s clear identification of autobiographical passages throughout his work from his legal documents in Stratford and London courts Shakespeare refers to the loss of his inheritance by his father mortgaging it to his uncle from early works such as Taming of the Shrew to the late Lear His mother is referred to in As You Like It and Coriolanus his twins in Comedy of Errors and Twelfth Night and the loss of his son from Merchant of Venice to Macbeth His daughters as recipients of his accumulated wealth are subjects of his concern from Lear to The Tempest More important the knowledge of the law in his personal pursuits is revealed as a source for the legal content in his works which found fit audiences among jurists at the Inns of Court law schools and in King James Court Shakespeare pleased the king on these matters enough to have him command his plays to be repeated on an occasion For himself Shakespeare learned from his own writing how to deal with the language of law theoretically and conceptually with such concepts as equity and mercy in Chancery He used his own family life personal documents and legal problems to give impetus to his version of borrowed characters plots plays and history These personal events from the placement of the references give his plays which sometimes end with a fictionalized wish fulfillment or literary compensation an autobiographical initial compulsion

Feminism & Autobiography Tess Coslett,Celia Lury,Penny Summerfield,2002-01-04 Featuring essays by leading feminist scholars from a variety of disciplines this key text explores the latest developments in autobiographical studies The collection is structured around the inter linked concepts of genre inter subjectivity and memory

Whilst exemplifying the very different levels of autobiographical activity going on in feminist studies the contributions chart a movement from autobiography as genre to autobiography as cultural practice and from the analysis of autobiographical texts to a preoccupation with autobiography as method

Modern Irish Autobiography L. Harte, 2007-04-12 Modern Irish Autobiography provides the first comprehensive critical analysis of the Irish autobiographical tradition from the early nineteenth century to the present day This pioneering collection offers readers a stimulating and provocative introduction to the principal themes modes and narrative strategies of Irish autobiographers

Telling Our Stories A. Alabi, 2005-04-15 Telling Our Stories investigates the continuities and divergences in selected Black autobiographies from Africa the Caribbean and the United States The stories of slaves creative writers and political activists are discussed both as texts produced by individuals who are products of specific societies and as interconnected books The book identifies influences of environmental and cultural differences on the texts while it adopts cross cultural and postcolonial reading approaches to examine the continuities and divergences in them

Memoirs of Well-Being Tanja Reiffenrath, 2016-05-15 As the body politics of life writing in the United States change illness and disability memoirs receive considerable attention Although these narratives are framed by a lack of health they abundantly present health and do so beyond its binary relationship to the pathological This book departs from previous scholarship by bringing into focus the writers representations of cure recovery and healing as well as their reluctance to bring closure to their narratives and align their stories with traditional notions of health These memoirs thus partake in the construction of alternative narratives of illness and disability

Writing Educational Biography Craig Kridel, 2013-11-26 This collection examines the many influences of biographical inquiry in education and discusses methodological issues from the perspective of veteran and novice biographers Contributors underscore the documentary interpretive and literary concerns of biographical and archival work and their essays reveal the complexity distinctiveness and sense of exploration of scholarly endeavors
