

The cover of the 'Investigating Biology Laboratory Manual' features a macro photograph of a dandelion seed head in the process of dispersing its seeds. The seeds are captured in mid-air, creating a soft, ethereal cloud around the central seed head. Below the dandelion, the top of a strawberry with its characteristic seeds is visible. The background is a dark, textured grey. The title and authors' names are printed in a clean, white, sans-serif font. A blue diagonal banner in the bottom right corner contains white text.
