Brazza, a Life for Africa Maria Petringa, 2006-01-13 In 1905 scandalous reports of torture in France s overseas colonies rocked Paris Brazza was sent to investigate Born an Italian nobleman Pierre Savorgnan de Brazza had spent twenty years exploring equatorial Africa as a French naval officer His attempts to reconcile African development and prosperity with French colonial policy had already cost him his career Now his commitment to expose colonial abuses would cost him his life Already divided by the anti Semitic currents of the Dreyfus Affair France was about to discover the reality of its administration in central Africa The European economy s greed for rubber had created a hidden world of slave labor and violence with scenes that inspired the horror of Joseph Conrad's Heart of Darkness. Brazza: A Life for Africa is the first English language biography of a man who lived an extraordinary life. Pierre Savorgnan de Brazza was a nobleman, a naval cadet, an explorer, a glamorous idol to 19th century Parisians, a colonial governor and a human rights investigator as well as a husband, father and friend. By turns thrilling, romantic and tragic, Brazza's story blends exotic adventures with all too human emotions and experiences.

The End of Slavery in Africa Suzanne Miers, 1988 This is the first comprehensive assessment of the end of slavery in Africa. Editors Suzanne Miers and Richard Roberts, with the distinguished contributors to the volume, establish an agenda for the social history of the early colonial period when the end of slavery was one of the most significant historical and cultural processes. The End of Slavery in Africa is a sequel to Slavery in Africa edited by Suzanne Miers and Igor Kopytoff and published by the University of Wisconsin Press in 1977. The contributors explore the historical experiences of slaves, masters and colonials as they all confronted the end of slavery in fifteen sub-Saharan African societies. The essays demonstrate that it is impossible to generalize about whether the end of slavery was a relatively mild and nondisruptive process or whether it marked a significant change in the social and economic organization of a given society. There was no common pattern and no uniform consequence of the end of slavery. The results of this wide-ranging inquiry will be of lasting value to Africanists and a variety of social and economic historians.

Land of Tears Robert Harms, 2019-12-03 A prizewinning historian's epic account of the scramble to control equatorial Africa. In just three decades at the end of the nineteenth century, the heart of Africa was utterly transformed. Virtually closed to outsiders for centuries, by the early 1900s the rainforest of the Congo River basin was one of the most brutally exploited places on earth. In Land of Tears, historian Robert Harms reconstructs the chaotic process by which this happened. Beginning in the 1870s, traders, explorers and empire builders from Arabia, Europe and America moved rapidly into the region where they pioneered a deadly trade in ivory and rubber for Western markets and in enslaved labor for the Indian Ocean rim. Imperial conquest followed close behind. Ranging from remote African villages to European diplomatic meetings to Connecticut piano key factories, Land of Tears reveals how equatorial Africa became fully, fatefully and tragically enmeshed within our global world.

Au coeur de l'Afrique sauvage Guy de Téramond, 1923

Africa's World War Gerard Prunier, 2008-12-31 The Rwandan genocide sparked a horrific bloodbath that swept across sub-Saharan Africa, ultimately leading to the deaths of some four million people. In this extraordinary history of the recent wars in Central Africa, Gerard Prunier offers a gripping account of how one grisly episode laid the groundwork for a sweeping and disastrous upheaval. Prunier vividly describes the grisly aftermath of the Rwandan genocide when some two million refugees, a third of Rwanda's population, fled to exile in Zaire in 1996. The new Rwandan regime then crossed into Zaire and attacked the refugees, slaughtering upwards of 400,000 people. The Rwandan forces then turned on Zaire's despotic President Mobutu and, with the help of a number of allied African countries, overthrew him. But as Prunier shows, the collapse of the Mobutu regime and the ascension of the corrupt and erratic Laurent D sir Kabila created a power vacuum that drew Rwanda Uganda Angola Zimbabwe Sudan and other African nations into an extended and chaotic war The heart of the book documents how the whole core of the African continent became engulfed in an intractable and bloody conflict after 1998 a devastating war that only wound down following the assassination of Kabila in 2001 Prunier not only captures all this in his riveting narrative but he also indicts the international community for its utter lack of interest in what was then the largest conflict in the world Praise for the hardcover The most ambitious of several remarkable new books that reexamine the extraordinary tragedy of Congo and Central Africa since the Rwandan genocide of 1994 New York Review of Books One of the first books to lay bare the complex dynamic between Rwanda and Congo that has been driving this disaster Jeffrey Gettleman New York Times Book Review Lucid meticulously researched and incisive Prunier s will likely become the standard account of this under reported tragedy Publishers Weekly Au coeur de l'Afrique (1668-1871) Georg August Schweinfurth,1875 Citizenship in Africa Bronwen Manby,2018-11-29 Citizenship in Africa provides a comprehensive exploration of nationality laws in Africa placing them in their theoretical and historical context It offers the first serious attempt to analyse the impact of nationality law on politics and society in different African states from a trans continental comparative perspective Taking a four part approach Parts I and II set the book within the framework of existing scholarship on citizenship from both sociological and legal perspectives and examine the history of nationality laws in Africa from the colonial period to the present day Part III considers case studies which illustrate the application and misapplication of the law in practice and the relationship of legal and political developments in each country Finally Part IV explores the impact of the law on politics and its relevance for questions of identity and belonging today concluding with a set of issues for further research Ambitious in scope and compelling in analysis this is an important new work on citizenship in Africa Au coeur de l'Afrique équatoriale Maurice Martin,1913 Bulletin of the American Geographical Society American Geographical Society of New York,1913 Africa Alan B Mountjoy,David Hilling,2023-11-06 First published in 1988 Africa examines the varied pattern of development in the continent the progress and the disappointments experienced and the prospects This picture is set firmly within the frame of the continent s geography From a general synthesis the books moves to a country by country analysis of the interdependence of geography and economic development The authors analysis of the effects of varied development strategies in Africa leads them in the final section to discuss what lessons maybe learned from these earlier initiatives and to assess the changes in development policies that were later implemented This book will be of interest to students of geography economics and development studies Conrad and Gide Russell West,Russell West-Pavlov,1996 This study examines the relations between the work of the Polish English novelist Joseph Conrad and the French Nobel Prize winner Andr Gide Gide s translation of Conrad s Typhoon is read as a work belonging paradoxically to the oeuvres of both writers where their respective preoccupations meet with illuminating results Focusing also on other major works by Conrad and Gide

the study suggests that the intertextual and personal interaction between these two masters of 20th Century fiction was governed by processes of identification and projection conflict between master and disciple and a consequent resistant reading of texts and confrontation with linguistic and cultural heterogeneity Issues of translation theory psychoanalysis and intertextuality are brought together to offer a glimpse of a possible dialogue between literature and ethics This study will be of interest to students and researchers in English French and Comparative Literature

Struggles for Citizenship in Africa Bronwen Manby, 2013-04-04 Hundreds of thousands of people living in Africa find themselves non persons in the only state they have ever known Because they are not recognised as citizens they cannot get their children registered at birth or entered in school or university they cannot access state health services they cannot obtain travel documents or employment without a work permit and if they leave the country they may not be able to return Most of all they cannot vote stand for office or work for state institutions Ultimately such policies can lead to economic and political disaster or even war The conflicts in both Cote d'Ivoire and the Democratic Republic of Congo have had at their hearts the very right of one part of the national population to share with others on equal terms the rights and duties of citizenship This book brings together new material from across Africa of the most egregious examples of citizenship discrimination and makes the case for urgent reform of the law

The Horn of Africa since 2018 Jan Záhorský, Aleksi Ylönen, 2025-04-15 This book takes stock of developments in the Horn of Africa since 2018 a key time of political turbulence marked by revolution military coups and civil war as well as alliances peace deals reforms and reconciliation processes Bringing together a group of experienced and younger scholars from the Horn of Africa and Europe the book investigates the various multi layered and intertwined factors and consequences of political developments in Ethiopia Eritrea Sudan South Sudan Djibouti and Somalia The authors investigate the endemic political instability across much of the Horn of Africa while also reflecting on political continuities and transformations including attempts at peace and state building They consider the important role of regional organizations and intra and extra regional actors in the domestic politics of the states in the Horn of Africa The book concludes with a section focusing on the prospects for reform and conflict resolution in the context of shifting regional power relations This book will be an important resource for researchers working on contemporary politics history and society in the Horn of Africa

Slavery, Resistance, and Identity in Early Modern West Africa Makhroufi Ousmane Traoré, 2023-11-30 Between the seventeenth and eighteenth centuries more than fifteen million people were uprooted from West Africa and enslaved in the Trans Saharan and Transatlantic slave systems The state of Gajaage located on the West African hinterland offered a doorway to the Atlantic Ocean and played a central role in the wide scale trade system that connected the histories of Africa the Americas and Europe Focussing on the Soninke of Gajaaga Makhroufi Ousmane Traoré demonstrates how their resistance to the slave trades led to the formation of a united community bound by an awareness of identity This original study expands our understanding of the various modes of resistance West Africans employed to stem the encroaching tide of Arab imperializing efforts European mercantile capitalism and the Atlantic slave trade whilst also highlighting how ethnic and religious identities were constructed and mobilized in the region
