Lose Your Mother A Journey Along The Atlantic Slave Route:

Lose Your Mother Saidiya Hartman, 2007-01-09 In Lose Your Mother Saidiya Hartman journeys along a slave route in Ghana following the trail of captives from the hinterland to the Atlantic coast She retraces the history of the Atlantic slave trade from the fifteenth to the twentieth century and reckons with the blank slate of her own genealogy There were no survivors of Hartman s lineage nor far flung relatives in Ghana of whom she had come in search She traveled to Ghana in search of strangers The most universal definition of the slave is a stranger torn from kin and country To lose your mother is to suffer the loss of kin to forget your past and to inhabit the world as a stranger As both the offspring of slaves and an American in Africa Hartman too was a stranger Her reflections on history and memory unfold as an intimate encounter with places a holding cell a slave market a walled town built to repel slave raiders and with people an Akan prince who granted the Portuguese permission to build the first permanent trading fort in West Africa an adolescent boy who was kidnapped while playing a fourteen year old girl who was murdered aboard a slave ship Eloquent thoughtful and deeply affecting Lose Your Mother is a powerful meditation on history memory and the Atlantic slave trade Toward an Intellectual History of Black Women Mia E. Bay, Farah J. Griffin, Martha S. Jones, Barbara D. Savage, 2015-04-13

Engendering Blackness Patrice D. Douglass,2025-06-24 In this incisive new book Patrice D Douglass interrogates the relationship between sexual violence and modern racial slavery and finds it not only inseverable but also fundamental to the structural predicaments facing Blackness in the present Douglass contends that the sexual violability of slaves is often misappropriated by frameworks on sexual violence that privilege its occurrences as a question of ethics sexual agency and feminine orders of gendering Rather this book foregrounds Blackness as engendered by sexual violence which forcefully re produces Blackness corporeally and conceptually as a condition that lacks the capacity to ontologically distinguish its suffering from what it means to be human By employing and critically revising Black feminist theory and Afro pessimism Douglass reveals that engaging primarily with the sexualization of the slave forces theories of sexual violence to interrogate why this violence one of the most prevalent under slavery continues to lack a grammar of fundamental redress There are no reparations struggles for the generational transfer of sexual violation and the inability of present frameworks to rectify the sexual stains of slavery lies precisely in the fact that what made this history possible continues to haunt arrangements of life today Engendering Blackness urgently articulates the way our present understandings of Blackness and humanness are bound by this vexed sexual history

Pan-Africanism, and the Politics of African Citizenship and Identity Toyin Falola,Kwame Essien,2013-10-08 There is no recent literature that underscores the transition from Pan Africanism to Diaspora discourse This book examines the gradual shift and four major transformations in the study of Pan Africanism It offers an academic post mortem that seeks to gauge the extent to which Pan Africanism overlaps with the study of the African Diaspora and reverse migrations how Diaspora studies has penetrated various disciplines while Pan Africanism is located on the periphery of the field The book argues that the gradual shift from Pan African discourses has created a new pathway for engaging Pan African ideology from academic and social perspectives Also the book raises questions about the recent political waves that have swept across North Africa and their implications to the study of twenty first century Pan African solidarity on the African continent The ways in which African institutions are attracting and mobilizing returnees and Pan Africanists with incentives as dual citizenship for diasporans to support reforms in Africa offers a new alternative approach for exploring Pan African ideology in the twenty first century Returnees are also using these incentives to gain economic and cultural advantage The book will appeal to policy makers government institutions research libraries undergraduate and graduate students and scholars from many different disciplines Media and the Affective Life of Slavery Allison Page, 2022-03-08 How media shapes our actions and feelings about race Amid fervent conversations about antiracism and police violence Media and the Affective Life of Slavery delivers vital new ideas about how our feelings about race are governed and normalized by our media landscape Allison Page examines U S media from the 1960s to today analyzing how media culture instructs viewers to act and feel in accordance with new racial norms created for an era supposedly defined by an end to legal racism From the classic television miniseries Roots to the edutainment video game Mission 2 Flight to Freedom and the popular website slaveryfootprint.org Media and the Affective Life of Slavery provides an in depth look at the capitalist and cultural artifacts that teach the U S public about slavery Page theorizes media not only as a system of representation but also as a technology of citizenship and subjectivity wherein race is seen as a problem to be solved Ultimately she argues that visual culture works through emotion a powerful lever for shaping and managing racialized subjectivity Media and the Affective Life of Slavery delivers compelling provocative material and includes a wealth of archival research into such realms as news entertainment television curricula video games and digital apps providing new and innovative scholarship where none currently exists Transformations in Africana Studies Adebayo Oyebadé, 2023-02-07 This book introduces readers to the rich discipline of Africana Studies reflecting on how it has developed over the last fifty years as an intellectual enterprise for knowledge production about Africa and the African diaspora The African world has always had a wealth of indigenous knowledge systems but for the greater part of the scholarly history hegemonic Western epistemologies have denied the authenticity of African indigenous ways of knowing The post colonial era has seen steady and deliberate efforts to expand the frontiers of knowledge about black people and their societies and to Africanize such bodies of knowledge in all fields of human endeavor This book reflects on how the multidisciplinary discipline of Africana Studies has transformed and reinvented itself as it has sought to advance knowledge about the African world The contributors consider the foundations of the discipline its key theories and methods of knowledge production and how it interacts with popular culture Women s Studies and other area studies such as Ethnic and Afro Latinx Studies Bringing together rich insights from across history religion literature art sociology and philosophy this book will be an important read for students and researchers of Africa and Africana Studies History 4° Celsius Ian Baucom, 2020-07-24 In History 4 Celsius Ian Baucom continues his inquiries into the place of the Black Atlantic in the making of the modern and postmodern world Putting black studies into conversation with climate change Baucom outlines how the ongoing concerns of critical race diaspora and postcolonial studies are crucial to understanding the Anthropocene He draws on materialist and postmaterialist thought Sartre and the science of climate change to trace the ways in which evolving political cultural and natural history converge to shape a globally destructive force Identifying the quest for limitless financial gain as the primary driving force behind both the slave trade and the continuing increase in global greenhouse gas emissions Baucom demonstrates that climate change and the conditions of the Black Atlantic colonialism and the postcolony are fundamentally entwined In so doing he argues for the necessity of establishing a method of critical exchange between climate science black studies and the surrounding theoretical inquiries of humanism and posthumanism

The Political Economy of the Interior Gold Coast Jarvis L. Hargrove,2015-12-09 This book analyzes the Gold Coast and the Asante kingdom in the years following the abolition of the transatlantic slave trade and prior to the start of colonial rule The Asante state one of the largest in the Gold Coast and West Africa after the eighteenth century is the central focus of this work Studying their transition from a large scale supplier of captives to the transatlantic slave trade to traders in legitimate goods is a critical component that should be analyzed across West Africa This work highlights the political and economic relationships between the interior Asante state with surrounding African groups and Europeans chiefly British traders who entered the region in the eighteenth and nineteenth centuries

Militant Visions Elizabeth Reich,2016-08-01 Militant Visions examines how from the 1940s to the 1970s the cinematic figure of the black soldier helped change the ways American moviegoers saw black men for the first time presenting African Americans as vital and integrated members of the nation In the process Elizabeth Reich reveals how the image of the proud and powerful African American serviceman was crafted by an unexpected alliance of government propagandists civil rights activists and black filmmakers Contextualizing the figure in a genealogy of black radicalism and internationalism Reich shows the evolving images of black soldiers to be inherently transnational ones shaped by the displacements of diaspora Third World revolutionary philosophy and a legacy of black artistry and performance Offering a nuanced reading of a figure that was simultaneously conservative and radical Reich considers how the cinematic black soldier lent a human face to ongoing debates about racial integration black internationalism and American militarism Militant Visions thus not only presents a new history of how American cinema represented race but also demonstrates how film images helped to make history shaping the progress of the civil rights movement itself

Unruly Narrative Samira Spatzek,2022-09-06 This study deals with the formative powers of modern liberal ideas of private property The liberal subject emerged with the formations of European liberalism Atlantic slavery and settler colonial expansion in the New World Toni Morrison s A Mercy is thus identified as a key literary text that generates a fundamental critique of the connections between self making and private property at its 17th century scene

Landscapes of Slavery in Africa Lydia Wilson Marshall,2021-05-15 Slavery was a large scale process that put its mark on the African landscape in tangible ways for example through the capture transfer and imprisonment of captives and through the avoidance strategies that vulnerable communities used against slaving Certainly the expansion of trade routes the depopulation of slaved regions and an increased reliance on defensive architecture and places of concealment can all be linked to slaving and slavery in Africa But how do we view these landscapes of slavery today And can archaeology help us Encompassing studies from Senegal Ghana Mauritius Tanzania and Kenya this volume grapples with such essential questions The authors advocate for the power of archaeology as a tool to disentangle often lengthy and complex landscape histories that both begin before slavery and continue after abolition They also argue for archaeologists central role in reimagining how we might remember and commemorate slavery in places where its history has been forgotten obscured by European colonialism or sanitized and simplified for tourist consumption The chapters in this book were originally published in a special issue of the Journal of African Diaspora Archaeology and Heritage

Caribbean Literature in Transition, 1800-1920: Volume 1 Evelyn O'Callaghan, Tim Watson, 2021-01-14 This volume examines what Caribbean literature looked like before 1920 by surveying the print culture of the period The emphasis is on narrative including an enormous range of genres in varying venues and in multiple languages of the Caribbean Essays examine lesser known authors and writing previously marginalized as nonliterary popular writing in newspapers and pamphlets fiction and poetry such as romances sentimental novels and ballads non elite memoirs and letters such as the narratives of the enslaved or the working classes especially women Many contributions are comparative multilingual and regional Some infer the cultural presence of subaltern groups within the texts of the dominant classes Almost all of the chapters move easily between time periods linking texts writers and literary movements in ways that expand traditional notions of literary influence and canon formation Using literary cultural and historical analyses this book provides a complete re examination of early Caribbean literature
