MAXnotes cover the essentials of what one should know about each work, including an overall summary, character lists, an explanation and discussion of the plot, the work's historical context, illustrations to convey the mood of the work, and a biography of the author. Each chapter is individually summarized and analyzed and has study questions and answers.

National Curriculum: National Disaster? Dr Rhys Griffith, Rhys Griffith, 2012-11-12 National Curriculum National Disaster looks beyond the classroom and discusses the way in which the infrastructure of school codes of conduct, the physical environment of school sites, and the hierarchy of human resources within schools impact on the aims and reality of the National Curriculum. An alternative skills-based educational programme is also outlined, which may be more likely to fulfil the expectations that many parents now hold for the education of their children.

The Life of an African Peace Corps Child Chia Tasah, 2015-07-31 My autobiography recounts my life from 1980 as an African Peace Corps child until I became a US citizen in 2012. I lived a full life as a needy child from a poverty-stricken nuclear family of nine and believe I have something fascinating to share with the world. Despite my pennilessness, I made great strides in my endeavors and thrived. I call myself a Peace Corps child of Africa because American Peace Corps volunteers with benevolent and philanthropic gestures encouraged my growth into an authentic adult. Mr Alan Lakowski whisked me away from my job as bartender and manager of a confidential decadent brothel at Club 185 Njinikom at age fourteen and sent me to secondary school. He returned to the United States when his term expired. Bill Strassberger replaced Dan Hunter and supported my education. Christine Swanson advised me to apply to the master of education program in human resource development at the University of Minnesota in 2003. I graduated in 2005 with an MEd and now work as an independent team building and cultural diversity consultant at All World Languages and Cultures Inc in Kansas City, Missouri.

Connecting Across Disciplines Susan Chenelle, Audrey Fisch, 2016-02-10 While the Common Core has made informational text a focal point in English language arts classrooms around the country, it has also made literacy a key concern in other subjects. Teaching literacy in the disciplines and navigating informational texts are challenging prospects. How can content area teachers find high quality informational texts that will enhance their curriculum? How do they go about working with these new texts? Most importantly, how do teachers balance their responsibility towards their subject matter with the new charge to incorporate disciplinary literacy? The key is to connect, communicate, and collaborate. Teachers can meet these challenges together and enhance student literacy engagement and motivation along the way. This volume offers a practical model that teachers in any discipline can use to incorporate informational texts into their classrooms on their own or in collaboration with colleagues in other content areas We also share suggestions and ideas for initiating and implementing collaboration between teachers of any discipline even those working at the secondary level with complex schedules and curricula Focus on Reading Walch Publishing,2003 Grammar in Theory and in Practice David Nicholls,2020-12-18 What are word classes How can we recognize them What role do they play in regards to punctuation Grammar in Theory and in Practice was written for those who want straight answers in plain English to these crucial yet rarely asked questions This essential guide empowers students to identify parts of speech rapidly to employ punctuation marks confidently and to examine syntax precisely in four popular GCSE texts Lord of the Flies Animal Farm Frankenstein and 1984 Grammatical categories are neatly defined in the glossary and each chapter is packed with practical and demanding exercises testing your knowledge of nouns verbs adjectives adverbs conjunctions and prepositions Topics range from the relatively simple such as common pronoun errors or subject verb agreement problems to the somewhat complex such as appositives participles or rhetorical devices At the end of the course there is a large punctuation section that revises the usage of commas colons semicolons hyphens and apostrophes
