Public Health in a Retrenchment Era Helen J. Muller, Curtis Ventriss, 1985-06-30 Public Health in a Retrenchment Era illustrates the political and economic reality of making cutbacks in traditional government sponsored programs This book critically examines the issues concerning cutbacks by focusing on Los Angeles County which has one of the largest public health service systems in the nation and explains how cutbacks were legitimized and implemented Muller and Ventriss propose that the retrenchment process offers an opportunity for policymakers and citizens alike to critically examine new choices which may not have existed in periods of fiscal expansion They criticize the present focus on managerialism and propose an alternative approach Called the co possibility model it enhances a more humane and substantive policy approach in making cutbacks This model links the citizen policymaker and public organization in a new relationship fostering an environment for policy experimentation and innovation in this retrenchment era Hearings United States. All Health Politics Is Local Merlin Chowkwanyun, 2022-05-09 Health is political. It entails fierce battles over the allocation of resources, arguments over the imposition of regulations, and the mediation of dueling public sentiments—all conflicts that are often narrated from a national top-down view. In All Health Politics Is Local, Merlin Chowkwanyun shifts our focus, taking us to four very different places: New York City, Los Angeles, Cleveland, and Central Appalachia, to experience a national story through a regional lens. He shows how racial uprisings in the 1960s catalyzed the creation of new medical infrastructure for those long denied it; what local authorities did to curb air pollution so toxic that it made residents choke and cry; how community health activists and bureaucrats fought over who'd control facilities long run by insular elites; and what a national coal boom did to community ecology and health. All Health Politics Is Local shatters the notion of a single national health agenda. Health is and has always been political, shaped both by formal policy at the highest levels and by grassroots community battles far below.
