Hunting Men Dave Smith,2006-12-01 In Hunting Men poet Dave Smith reasserts the validity of poetry in our times With eloquence grace and a searching intelligence Smith illuminates both poems and poets Believing that great poetry cannot be divorced from an intimate organic link to place he builds a compelling case for the importance of southern poets Like the hunters who taught Smith as a young man patience observation and willingness to rely on his senses he leads readers on an expedition through a specific poetic place with a sure sense of direction and destination Beginning with a discussion of southern poetry that seeks to define the form and its value for a global readership the first of the book s three sections also includes reflections on Edgar Allan Poe John Crowe Ransom Robert Penn Warren and James Dickey In the second part Smith focuses on contemporary poets Richard Hugo Stephen Dunn Stephen Dobyns and Larry Levis among others In the final chapters he examines how he came to be a poet and reflects on the nature and practice of poetry Smith describes himself as a poet born and raised in the South but never entirely comfortable with the neighborhood or many of the public assumptions about southernness By describing why southern poetry is important to him he reveals why poetry matters to all of us as he asserts the moral weight of regional art My success if it occurs will be to send readers to the books of the poets where the world as they knew it waits and is full of the delights of the unglimped and known     The Golden Legend Nadeem Aslam,2017-04-18 When shots ring out on the Grand Trunk Road in the fictional Pakistani city of Zamara Nargis s life begins to crumble around her Soon her husband and fellow architect is dead and under threat from a powerful military intelligence officer she fears that a long hidden truth about her past will be exposed For weeks someone has been broadcasting people s secrets from the minaret of the local mosque and in a country where even the accusation of blasphemy is a currency to be bartered the mysterious broadcasts have struck fear in Christians and Muslims alike A revelatory portrait of the human spirit in The Golden Legend Nadeem Aslam gives us a novel of Pakistan s past and present a story of corruption and resilience of love and terror and of the disguises that are sometimes necessary for survival     Redbook ,1957     A Scorpion Touching

Happiness Avi Halevy, 2012-02-01 A Scorpion Touching Happiness is the inspiring true story of Avi Halevy of Ashdod Israel. Avi is a successful entrepreneur with a thriving business, a good marriage, and a wonderful family. Just as he feels he has reached his peak, disaster strikes. His teenage son contracts a horribly painful illness which the medical establishment is powerless to cure, declaring he has no more than three weeks to live. Avi goes against all the odds and the medical establishment to fight for his son's life. The ongoing grueling and painful battle ultimately earns his child seven additional years of life which he lives to the fullest. At the backdrop is Avi's own poignant story of growing up. With deft insight, the author portrays both comic and tragic episodes from his childhood. His mother's early death and his father's spurning of emotion left Avi with a long, difficult quest to acquire the self-confidence and love that he lacked. The sensitive, passionate man he grew to become had to build the strength needed to pass on to his son for the life and death battle they fought as one. A Scorpion Touching Happiness is a powerfully moving story reaching out to the boundaries of suffering and hope.

The New-York Mirror George Pope Morris, 1842 Undressing Chickens Nicole Wilson, 2009-07 Emigrating to America can be a funny and entertaining experience. Nicole Wilson shares her humorous misadventures as she moved from Duesseldorf, Germany to the Seattle area. This almost true story recalls the first two years Wilson spent learning about her new country. She was accustomed to the sophisticated ways of living in a German city but found herself transformed from a city girl with a 9 to 5 office job to a country girl raising horses and planting a garden. There were numerous adjustments along the way. Life in America seemed like a continuous, hilarious, and adventurous learning experience. Wilson dealt with the blending and clashing of cultures. Overcoming language barriers was probably her most difficult adjustment. But she saw the humor and necessity in learning the slang, sayings, idioms, and words that are not in any dictionary.
