

Reasoning from Evidence Rules (over all !)

Here's what we mean by these terms:

Claim: one-sentence statement relating two things. For example:
"The height of the balloon is a quadratic function of time."

Evidence: stuff to which you will refer when explaining why your claim is true. For example:
Data tables, graphs, fitted equations, and previous claims that you have verified.

Reasoning: explanation of how your evidence supports your claim. For example:
The plot of height vs. time data appeared to be quadratic and when we fit a quadratic to it using LoggerPro we found the resulting curve closely matched the data points.

How-To Tips:

Use a blank piece of paper to sketch a chain of claims leading from raw data to the resulting symbolic model. Use the chain to structure your writing.

1. We go from raw data to symbolic model... so narrate that trip.
2. Think of that trip as a sequence of steps... each step is a claim supported by evidence explained by reasoning.
3. For some claims, the reasoning will involve calculations.
4. Good Form:
 - Show your calculations, don't just give a numerical result.
 - Explain your calculations, don't just put numbers on a page.
 - Sequence reads like a story line, with a plot. Not a random walk.

Consumption and the World of Goods John Brewer,Roy Porter,2013-06-17 The study of past society in terms of what it consumes rather than what it produces is relatively speaking a new development The focus on consumption changes the whole emphasis and structure of historical enquiry While human beings usually work within a single trade or industry as producers as say farmers or industrial workers as consumers they are active in many different markets or networks And while history written from a production viewpoint has by chance or design largely been centred on the work of men consumption history helps to restore women o the mainstream The history of consumption demands a wide range of skills It calls upon the methods and techniques of many other disciplines including archaeology sociology social and economic history anthropology and art criticism But it is not simply a melting pot of techniques and skills brought to bear on a past epoch Its objectives amount to a new description of a past culture in its totality as perceived through its patterns of consumption in goods and services Consumption and the World of Goods is the first of three volumes to examine history from this perspective and is a unique collaboration between twenty six leading subject specialists from Europe and North America The outcome is a new interpretation of the seventeenth and eighteenth centuries one that shapes a new historical landscape based on the consumption of goods and services Public Order Policing in Hong Kong Kam C.
