Translated and Edited by Warner Wells Michihiko Hachiya,1945*      Five Days in August Michael D. Gordin,2015-08-18 Most Americans believe that the Second World War ended because the two atomic bombs dropped on Japan forced it to surrender Five Days in August boldly presents a different interpretation that the military did not clearly understand the atomic bomb s revolutionary strategic potential that the Allies were almost as stunned by the surrender as the Japanese were by the attack and that not only had experts planned and fully anticipated the need for a third bomb they were skeptical about whether the atomic bomb would work at all With these ideas Michael Gordin reorients the historical and contemporary conversation about the A bomb and World War II Five Days in August explores these and countless other legacies of the atomic bomb in a glaring new light Daring and iconoclastic it will result in far reaching discussions about the significance of the A bomb about World War II and about the moral issues they have spawned      The Atomic Bomb in Japanese Cinema Matthew Edwards,2018-07-24 Seventy years after the nuclear attacks on Hiroshima and Nagasaki Japan is still dealing with the effects of the bombings on the national psyche From the Occupation Period to the present Japanese cinema had offered a means of coming to terms with one of the most controversial events of the 20th century From the monster movies Gojira 1954 and Mothra 1961 to experimental works like Go Shibata s NN 891102 1999 atomic bomb imagery features in all genres of Japanese film This collection of new essays explores the cultural aftermath of the bombings and its expression in Japanese cinema The contributors take on a number of complex issues including the suffering of the survivors hibakusha the fear of future holocausts and the danger of nuclear warfare Exclusive interviews with Go Shibata and critically acclaimed directors Roger Spottiswoode Hiroshima and Steven Okazaki White Light Black Rain are included

Fallout Lesley M.M. Blume,2021-08-10 ONE of THE NEW YORK TIMES S 100 NOTABLE BOOKS of the YEAR A VANITY FAIR and TOWN COUNTRY BEST BOOK of the YEAR New York Times bestselling author Lesley M M Blume reveals how one courageous American reporter uncovered one of the deadliest cover ups of the 20th century the true effects of the atom bomb potentially saving millions of lives Just days after the United States decimated Hiroshima and Nagasaki with nuclear bombs the Japanese surrendered unconditionally But even before the surrender the US government and military had begun a secret propaganda and information suppression campaign to hide the devastating effects of these then experimental weapons For nearly a year the cover up worked until New Yorker journalist John Hersey got into Hiroshima and managed to report the truth to the world When the magazine published Hiroshima in August 1946 it became an instant global sensation and inspired pervasive horror about the hellish new threat that America had unleashed Since 1945 no nuclear weapons have ever been deployed in war partly because Hersey alerted the world to their true devastating impact This knowledge has remained among the greatest deterrents to using them since the end of World War II Released on the anniversary of the Hiroshima bombing Fallout is an engrossing detective story as well as an important piece of hidden history that shows how one heroic scoop saved and can still save the world

Food and War in Mid-Twentieth-Century

East Asia Katarzyna J. Cwiertka, 2016-04-15 War has been both an agent of destruction and a catalyst for innovation. These two at first sight contradictory yet mutually constitutive outcomes of war waging are particularly pronounced in twentieth century Asia. While 1945 marked the beginning of peaceful recovery for Europe, military conflicts continued to play a critical role in the historical development of this part of the world. In essence, all wars in twentieth century Asia stemmed from the political vacuum that developed after the fall of the Japanese Wartime Empire, intricately connecting one region with another. Yet they have had often very diverse consequences: shattering the homes of some and bringing about affluence to others. Disarray of war may halt economic activities and render many aspects of life insignificant. The need for food, however, cannot be ignored, and the social action that it requires continues in all circumstances. This book documents the effects of war on the lives of ordinary people through the investigation of a variety of connections that developed between war waging and the production, distribution, preparation, and consumption of food throughout Asia since the 1930s. The topics addressed range from issues at stake at the time of the conflicts, such as provisioning the troops and food rationing and food relief for civilians, to long-term, often surprising consequences of war waging and wartime mobilization of resources on the food systems, diets, and tastes of the societies involved. The main argument of this volume is that war has not been a mere disruption but rather a central force in the social and cultural trajectories of twentieth century Asia. Due to its close connection with human nourishment and comfort, food stands central in the life of the individual. On the other hand, owing to its connection with profit and power, food plays a critical role in the social and economic organization of a society. What happens to food and eating is therefore an important index of change, a privileged basis for the exploration of historical processes.

Embracing Defeat John W. Dower, 2012-05-28 Winner of the Pulitzer Prize and the National Book Award for Nonfiction. Finalist for the Lionel Gelber Prize and the Kiriama Pacific Rim Book Prize. Embracing Defeat is John W. Dower's brilliant examination of Japan in the immediate shattering aftermath of World War II. Drawing on a vast range of Japanese sources and illustrated with dozens of astonishing documentary photographs, Embracing Defeat is the fullest and most important history of the more than six years of American occupation, which affected every level of Japanese society, often in ways neither side could anticipate. Dower, whom Stephen E. Ambrose has called America's foremost historian of the Second World War in the Pacific, gives us the rich and turbulent interplay between West and East, the victor and the vanquished, in a way never before attempted, from top-level manipulations concerning the fate of Emperor Hirohito to the hopes and fears of men and women in every walk of life. Already regarded as the benchmark in its field, Embracing Defeat is a work of colossal scholarship and history of the very first order.

Nuclear Weapons and Scientific Responsibility C.G. Weeramantry, 2021-10-11 Several years ago when this work first appeared, it had become apparent that scientists who play such a key role in the nuclear enterprise needed to be alerted to the many questions of conscience and legality that were inextricably interlinked with their work. These questions lay at the heart of the nuclear weapons problem for whatever the political and military leaders might ordain the manufacture of such weapons was a plain impossibility without the active assistance of the scientific profession. Yet no substantive work on this topic had until then been attempted. Such a work appeared at that time to be an urgent and important need. If the problem was then acute and serious it is even more so now. The power of nuclear science has grown and with it has grown the power of the individual scientist to initiate new developments. The changes in the world order that have occurred in the intervening years enable individual scientists to hold themselves out as available for employment. Those who seek their expertise may include not only governments but other entities as well. The power of global destruction that these scientists command renders it imperative that they be alerted on a continuing basis to the problems of conscience that arise. Hence the need for a re issue of this work for which there had been many requests from concerned scientists, professional groups, socially concerned organisations and also from lawyers. The book is re issued in its original form but updated by the inclusion of more recent work as contained in extracts from three judicial opinions upon the matter.

Pursuing Justice in Africa Jessica Johnson, George Hamandishe Karekwaivanane, 2018-10-31. Pursuing Justice in Africa focuses on the many actors pursuing many visions of justice across the African continent, their aspirations, divergent practices and articulations of international and vernacular idioms of justice. The essays selected by editors Jessica Johnson and George Hamandishe Karekwaivanane engage with topics at the cutting edge of contemporary scholarship across a wide range of disciplines. These include activism and tenure, international legal institutions and postconflict reconciliation. Building on recent work in sociolegal studies that foregrounds justice over and above concepts such as human rights and legal pluralism, the contributors grapple with alternative approaches to the concept of justice and its relationships with law, morality and rights. While the chapters are grounded in local experiences, they also attend to the ways in which national and international actors and processes influence for better or worse local experiences and understandings of justice. The result is a timely and original addition to scholarship on a topic of major scholarly and pragmatic interest. Contributors: Felicitas Becker, Jonathon L. Earle, Patrick Hoenig, Stacey Hynd, Fred Nyongesa, Ikanda Ngeyi, Ruth Kanyongolo, Anna Macdonald, Bernadette Malunga, Alan Msosa, Benson A. Mulemi, Holly Porter, Duncan Scott, Olaf Zenker.
