Histoire Du Gabon French Edition:

Being Lakota Larissa Petrillo, Melda Trejo, Lupe Trejo, 2007-12-01 In Libreville the capital of the African nation of Gabon the colonial past has evolved into a present indelibly marked by colonial rule and ongoing French influence This is especially evident in areas as essential to life as food In this complex hybrid culinary culture of Libreville croissants are as readily available as plantains Yet this same culinary diversity is accompanied by high prices and a scarcity of locally made food that is bewildering to residents and visitors alike A staggering two thirds of the country s food is imported from outside Gabon making Libreville s cost of living comparable to that of Tokyo and Paris In this compelling study of food culture and colonialism Jeremy Rich explores how colonial rule intimately shaped African life and how African townspeople developed creative ways of coping with colonialism as European expansion threatened African self sufficiency From colonization in the 1840s through independence Libreville struggled with problems of food scarcity resulting from the legacy of Atlantic slavery the violence of colonial conquest and the rise of the timber export industry Marriage disputes racial tensions and worker unrest often centered on food and townspeople employed varied tactics to combat its scarcity Ultimately imports emerged as the solution and have had a lasting impact on Gabon s culinary culture and economy Fascinating and informative A Workman Is Worthy of His Meat engages a new avenue of historical inquiry in examining the culture of food as part of the colonial experience and resonates with the questions of globalization dominating culinary economics today Historical

Colonial Rule and Crisis in Equatorial Africa

Christopher John Gray, 2002 A look at the encounter between the French and the peoples of Southern Gabon in terms of their differing conceptions of boundaries In the second half of the nineteenth century two very different practices of territoriality confronted each other in Southern Gabon Clan and lineage relationships were most important in the local practice while the French practice was informed by a territorial definition of society that had emerged with the rise of the modern nation state and industrial capitalism This modern territoriality used an array of bureaucratic instruments such as maps and censuses previously unknown in equatorial Africa Such instruments denied the existence of locally created territories and were fundamental to the exercise of colonial power Thus modern territoriality imposed categories and institutions foreign to the peoples to whom they were applied As colonial power became more effective from the 1920s on those institutions started to be appropriated by Gabonese cultural elites who negotiated their meanings in reference to their own traditions The result was a strongly ambiguous condition that left its imprint on the new colonial territories and subsequently the postcolonial Gabonese state Christopher Gray was Assistant Professor of History Florida International University

Le Miroir et le crâne

Julien Bonhomme, 2006 La scène se passe au cours d'une nuit gabonaise Au corps de garde un homme est assis devant un miroir qu'il scrute les yeux fixés Il prend la parole et raconte des scènes étranges apparitions fantastiques ou sombres histoires de famille Il les raconte d'autres hommes qui l'écourent avec attention massés autour de lui Il s'agit d'une initiation au Bwete Misoko rituel masculin originaire des Mitsogo du Gabon central mais aujourd'hui répandu dans la majorité du pays Le livre retrace le parcours initiatique complexe depuis les rites de passage centrés autour de l'absorption de la plante hallucinogène eboga des fins visionnaires et thérapeutiques jusqu'à la dernière étape rituelle au terme de laquelle l'initié pourra son tour initier des novices et exercer le métier de devin guérisseur partant d'une approche pragmatiste centrée sur la logique interactionnelle du rituel l'auteur montre comment le Bwete Misoko permet de mettre en scène l'ordre des relations sociales en les jouant dans le miroir initiatique L'initiation instaure en effet un autre type de rapport soi et autrui par le biais d'une série de pièges qui opèrent une recomposition de la relation aux sorciers aux femmes et aux ancêtres En déplaçant ainsi le regard des structures symboliques vers les dynamiques d'interaction ce livre invite un renouvellement théorique de l'anthropologie du rituel le rituel est moins une affaire de croyance et de symboles que de contextes et de relations et son efficacité propre repose moins sur la métaphore que sur l'ironie French-speaking Central Africa Library of Congress. Dissent, Protest and Dispute in Africa Toyin Falola, Emmanuel Mbah, 2016-12-19 This book provides unique and detailed perspectives on different aspects of dissent protest and disputes and how these have in turn continued to pose challenges in Africa The contributors argue that dissent protest and most forms of disputes in Africa are the result of daily challenges that its people have faced and continue to encounter to this day These challenges include amongst others demands for transparency good governance and accountability waves of instability that have created insecurity in most parts of the continent an unsustainable level of youth unemployment rapid population growth a continent wide healthcare and poverty crises and numerous environmental challenges The chapters elevate the debates on dissent protest and disputes conflict in Africa by adding new ideas and introducing new and useful interpretations The book's strength lies in the contributors ability to conflate colonial and postcolonial tendencies to show how challenges of the past are not so different from those of today while also presenting important historical issues from various scholarly perspectives Dissent Protest and Dispute in Africa will be of interest for students and scholars of African history politics and culture as well as those interested in social movements and civil society Gabon Marc Aicardi De Saint-Paul, 2025-05-30 First published in 1987 and in English in 1989 Gabon provides an essential introduction to the geography history sociology economics and politics of Gabon in considerable detail It assesses Gabon's achievement the initiation of a national minimum wage of a campaign for women's rights of an advanced health and education policy and the political and economic dangers it still faces The smooth transition of Francophone Africa from colonies to republics was achieved largely because both sides benefitted In retrospect as Africa continues to be plagued by drought disease and poverty the advantages may appear to have been one sided Gabon is one of the few countries to have escaped the African poverty trap Its rapid emergence as an important oil producer and its stable independent political stance have made it an African success story Gabon incorporated and adapted much of the colonial administrative structure into its own republican constitution and began to redeploy its resources early on both these factors have allowed President Bongo to steer his country through the oil crises of the 70s and 80s This comprehensive volume is an important historical reference work for scholars and researchers of African Studies and African politics Missionaries and Ethnography, 2006 French Africa in World War II Eric T. Jennings, 2015-07-08 Only months after France's defeat in 1940 a new army was raised in Africa to fight the Nazis Eric T Jennings tells the story of an improbable French military and institutional rebirth through Central Africa and gives a unique look at the role Free French Africa played during World War II

Women Writers of Gabon Cheryl Toman,2016-10-07 Women Writers of Gabon Literature and Herstory demonstrates how the invisibility of women historically politically cross culturally etc has led to the omission of Gabon s literature from the African canon but it also discusses in depth the unique elements of Gabonese women s writing that show it is worthy of critical recognition and that prove why Gabonese women writers must be considered a major force in African literature This book is the only book length critical study of Gabonese literature that exists in English and although there are titles in French that provide analyses of the works of Gabonese women writers no one work is comprehensive nor is the history of women s writing in Gabon considered in the such a manner Throughout the various chapters the book explores among other things contributions that are unique to Gabonese women writers such as definitions of African feminisms as they pertain to Gabonese society the rewriting of oral histories rituals and traditions of the Fang ethnic group one of the first introductions of same sex couples in African Francophone literature discussions on the impact of witchcraft on development and the appropriating of the epic poetry known as the mvet by women writers The chapters explore works by all major voices in Gabonese women s writing including Ang le Rawiri Justine Mintsa Sylvie Ntsame Honorine Ngou and Chantal Magalie Mbazoo Kassa and the book concludes with brief introductions of a younger generation of Gabonese women writers such as Edna Merey Apinda Alice Endamne Nadia Origo Miryl Eteno and Elisabeth Aworet among others
