Settler Colonialism in the Twentieth Century Caroline Elkins, Susan Pedersen, 2012-11-12 Postcolonial states and metropolitan societies still grapple today with the divisive and difficult legacies unleashed by settler colonialism. Whether they were settled for trade or geopolitical reasons, these settler communities had in common their shaping of landholding laws and race relations in colonies throughout the world. By looking at the detail of settlements in the twentieth century from European colonial projects in Africa and expansionist efforts by the Japanese in Korea and Manchuria to the Germans in Poland and the historical trajectories of Israel, Palestine and South Africa and analyzing the dynamics set in motion by these settlers, the contributors to this volume establish points of comparison to offer a new framework for understanding the character and fate of twentieth century empires.

Economic Disasters of the Twentieth Century Michael J. Oliver, Derek Howard Aldcroft, 2007-01-01 The First and Second World Wars, the great depression, oil shocks, inflation, financial crises, stock market crashes, the collapse of the Soviet command economy and Third World disasters are discussed in this comprehensive book. The contributors subject these disasters to in-depth assessment, carefully considering their costs and impact on specific countries and regions as well as assessing them in a global context. The book examines the legacy of economic disasters and asks whether economic disasters are avoidable or whether policymakers can learn from their mistakes.

Developmental and Cultural Nationalisms Radhika Desai, 2013-10-18 Premature announcements of the eclipse of nation states under globalization and empire stand exposed as the 21st century's first economic crisis underlines their continuing importance. A predominantly cultural study of nationalism was unable to resist the globalization thesis. Focusing on selected Asian cases, this book argues that nationalisms have always contained political economies as well as cultural politics. Placing nation states centrally in our understanding of modern capitalism, it challenges the globalization thesis. Rather than eclipse nations and nationalisms, they have undergone changes under the impact of neoliberalism since the 1970s. Classical 20th century developmental nationalisms emphasised citizenship, economy and future orientations. Later cultural nationalisms, Asian values, Hindutva, Confucianism or Nihonjiron stressed identity, culture and past orientations. Amid neoliberalism's flagrantly unequal political economy, not primarily concerned with material production or productivity, they glorified static conceptions of original cultures and identities, whether religious, ethnic or other, and justified inequality as cultural difference. In contrast to the popular mobilizations which powered developmental nationalisms, cultural nationalisms thrived on neoliberalism's disengagement and disenfranchisement, albeit partially compensated by the political baptism of newly enriched groups. Extremist wings of cultural nationalism in some countries were a function of this lack of popular support. This book was published as a special issue of Third World Quarterly.

The Impoverishment of the African Red

Sea Littoral, 1640-1945 Steven Serels, 2018-08-23 The African Red Sea Littoral currently divided between Sudan Eritrea Ethiopia and Djibouti is one of the poorest regions in the world But the pastoralist communities indigenous to this region were not always poor historically they had access to a variety of resources that allowed them to prosper in the harsh arid environment This access was mediated by a robust moral economy of pastoralism that acted as a social safety net Steven Serels charts the erosion of this moral economy a slow moving process that began during the Little Ice Age mega drought of the seventeenth and eighteenth centuries and continued through the devastating famines of the twentieth century By examining mass sedentarization after the Second World War as merely the latest manifestation of an inter generational environmental and economic crisis this book offers an innovative lens for understanding poverty in northeastern Africa

Re-envisioning Egypt 1919-1952 Arthur Goldschmidt, Amy J. Johnson, Barak A. Salmoni, 2005 Re Envisioning Egypt 1919 1952 presents new and often dismissed aspects of the constitutional monarchy era in Egyptian history It demonstrates that many of the domestic and regional sociopolitical and cultural changes credited to the 1952 revolutionaries actually began in the decades before the July coup Arguing against the predominant view of the pre revolutionary era in Egypt as one of creeping decay the volume restores understandings of the 1919 1952 years as integral to modern nation state formation and social transformation The book s contributors show that Egypt s real revolutions were long term processes emerging over several decades prior to 1952 The leaders of the 1952 coup capitalized on these developments yet earlier changes in Egyptian society fundamentally facilitated their actions and policies This volume includes revisionist discussion of domestic political issues and foreign policy the military education social reform and class as well as popular media art and literature By introducing new approaches to these under appreciated categories of analysis through exploration of untapped sources and by re examining the political context of the time Re Envisioning Egypt 1919 1952 proposes innovative methodologies for understanding this crucial period in Egyptian history casting these years as fundamental to the country s twentieth century trajectory Contributors Tewfik Aclimandos Malak Badrawi Andrew Flibbert Nancy Gallagher Arthur Goldschmidt Mervat Hatem Misako Ikeda Amy J Johnson Anne Claire Kerboeuf Samia Kholoussi Hanan Kholoussi Fred Lawson Shaun T Lopez Scott David McIntosh Roger Owen Lucie Ryzova Barak A Salmoni James Whidden Caroline Williams The Israel-Palestine Conflict James L. Gelvin, 2005-08 The conflict between Israelis and their forebears on the one hand and Palestinians and theirs on the other has lasted over a century and generated more than its share of commentaries and histories James L Gelvin s new account of that conflict offers a compelling accessible and up to the moment introduction for students and general readers Beginning in the mid nineteenth century when the inhabitants of Ottoman Palestine and the Jews of Eastern Europe began to conceive of themselves as members of national communities the book traces the evolution and interaction of these communities from their first encounters through to the present as well as exploring the external pressures and internal logic that has propelled their conflict The book which places events in Palestine within the framework of global history skilfully

Arab Economies in the Twenty-First Century Paul Rivlin,2009-02-09 This book examines the relationship between demographic growth and economic development in eight Arab countries Despite a slowdown in demographic growth as a result of the change in the age structure of the population the labor force is increasing rapidly In other parts of the world similar developments have enhanced economic growth In the Arab world however many of the opportunities presented by demographic transition are being lost resulting in serious threats to the political stability of the region The main reason for this is that the region has missed out on industrialization The book goes beyond conventional analysis to ask two closely related questions The first is why were governments so slow in tackling stability The second is why has the response been similar in apparently different economies Answers are provided using new literature in economics and economic history
