Alessie,2007 Individuals are increasingly put in charge of their financial security after retirement Moreover the supply of complex financial products has increased considerably over the years However we still have little or no information about whether individuals have the financial knowledge and skills to navigate this new financial environment To better understand financial literacy and its relation to financial decision making we have devised two special modules for the DNB Household Survey We have designed questions to measure numeracy and basic knowledge related to the working of inflation and interest rates as well as questions to measure more advanced financial knowledge related to financial market instruments stocks bonds and mutual funds We evaluate the importance of financial literacy by studying its relation to the stock market Are more financially knowledgeable individuals more likely to hold stocks To assess the direction of causality we make use of questions measuring financial knowledge before investing in the stock market We find that while the understanding of basic economic concepts related to inflation and interest rate compounding is far from perfect it outperforms the limited knowledge of stocks and bonds the concept of risk diversification and the working of financial markets We also find that the measurement of financial literacy is very sensitive to the wording of survey questions This provides additional evidence for limited financial knowledge Finally we report evidence of an independent effect of financial literacy on stock market participation Those who have low financial literacy are significantly less likely to invest in stocks Cracking IAS Prelims

Advanced Real Estate Principles Stephen Mettling, David Cusic, Ryan Mettling, 2024-09-09 Performance Programs Company's South Carolina Advanced Real Estate Principles the SCAP Unit II Program has been developed to satisfy South Carolina's 30-hour Unit II requirement. The course also fulfills the Real Estate Commission's objective of giving South Carolina real estate licensees a carefully developed reinforcement of key real estate brokerage principles, concepts and practices necessary to initiate a productive professional career in real estate. Beyond an initial review of key principles, the SCAP Program takes on a further examination of essential skills and practices that will be necessary to meet client and customer transactional requirements within South Carolina's legal framework. Such skills examined include compliance with South Carolina agency and disclosure laws, how to properly represent and disclose property characteristics and an intensive look at South Carolina transaction contracts, listings, the sales contract, options and contracts for deed. Beyond its agency and contracts topics, the SCAP further examines the other key subjects required by the Commission: ethics, handling trust funds, regulatory compliance and critical cornerstones of professional practice. Finally, the last two modules of the SCAP program examine the various methods used to measure real property price and appraise real property and evaluate how real property is evaluated as a professional investment. These considerations encompass income properties as well as residential non-income property and include pre-tax analysis as well as after-tax analysis. Taken as a whole, the South Carolina Advanced Real Estate Principles program is designed to deepen the new licensee's understanding of how brokerage works in actual practice and how it is supposed to be undertaken in view of today's standards of professionalism, ethics and legal compliance.
