families lost their homes to these blazes yet for much of the 1970s tenant vandalism and welfare fraud stood as the prevailing explanations for the arson wave effectively indemnifying landlords Ansfield's book based on a decade of research introduces the term brownlining for the destructive insurance practices imposed on poor communities of color under the guise of racial redress Ansfield shows that as the FIRE industries finance insurance and real estate eclipsed manufacturing in the 1970s they began profoundly reshaping Black and Brown neighborhoods seeing them as easy sources of profit At every step Ansfield charts the tenant led resistance movements that sprung up in the Bronx and elsewhere as well as the explosion of popular culture around the fires from iconic movies like The Towering Inferno to hit songs such as Disco Inferno Ultimately they show how similarly pernicious dynamics around insurance and race are still at play in our own era especially in regions most at risk of climate shocks
