

- a) establish, implement and maintain an OH&S management system to improve occupational health and safety, eliminate or minimize OH&S risks and address OH&S management system nonconformities associated with its activities;
 - b) continually improve its OH&S performance and the fulfilment of its OH&S objectives;
 - c) demonstrate conformity with the requirements of this International Standard.
- This International Standard is intended to be applicable to any organization regardless of its size, type and activity and applies to the OH&S risks that the organization determines it can manage, taking into account factors such as the context in which the organization operates and the needs and expectations of its workers and other interested parties.

This International Standard does not state specific criteria for OH&S performance, nor is it prescriptive about the design of an OH&S management system.

This International Standard enables an organization, through its OH&S management system, to integrate other aspects of health and safety, such as worker wellness/ wellbeing. The organization can also be required by applicable legal requirements to address such issues.

This International Standard does not address issues such as product safety, property damage or environmental impacts, beyond the risks they provide to workers.
