Volume 11 Number 1 1991

Have you ever thought about bringing words to life? That is exactly what authors do. They use words to create and tell stories. Stories help readers learn pictures in their minds. Bill Martin Jr., Eric Clark, and John Bartholomew are authors of children's books. This article explains how they do it and shows how they have become famous authors.

Becoming an Author

by James King

Bill Martin Jr.

Bill Martin Jr. was born in 1926. He grew up in Kansas. Reading was not easy for Bill. He had difficulty learning to read and often became discouraged.

When Bill was a young boy, his grandmother told him stories. She listened to her son's stories. Bill learned how to listening.

Bill's fifth grade teacher read books aloud to him every week day. While she read, she listened to him. Bill learned to read by listening to her read.

As a college student, Bill Martin Jr. was excited to write books. One day he wrote. Bill was nervous about his writing but was happy he had difficulty writing. The teacher told him that good readers become good writers.
