Ida Johnson Lee Book:

Books on Early American History and Culture, 1951-1960 Raymond D. Irwin, 2006-01-30 This volume is part of a series of annotated bibliographies on early American history including North America and the Caribbean from 1492 to 1815. It includes monographs, reference works, exhibition catalogues, and essay collections published between 1951 and 1960 which were reviewed in at least one of thirty-four historical journals. Each entry gives the name of the book, its author(s) or editor(s), publisher, date of publication, OCLC number(s), the Library of Congress call number, the Dewey class number, the number of times the book has been cited in the journal literature, and the number of OCLC member libraries that held the item as of August 2005. Following each detailed citation is a brief summary of the book and a list of journals in which the book has been reviewed. This volume contains chapters on general early American history, historiography, and public history; geography and exploration; colonization; maritime history; Native Americans; race and slavery; gender; ethnicity; migration; labor and class; economics and business; society; families and children; rural life and agriculture; urban life; religion; the American Revolution; the War of 1812; the Constitution; politics and government; law; crime and punishment; diplomacy; military; ideas; literature; communication; education; science and medicine; visual arts and material culture; and performing arts. Through this volume, Irwin aims to make scholars, teachers, and students of early American history aware of books written in the field between 1951 and 1960. He offers descriptions and location aids for those works and he directs users to reviews of the books. He also suggests which works in the field have had significant scholarly impact. This volume may boast extensive indexes by subject and author, thematic chapters, book summaries that cover subject matter, scope, and often argument and approach, and OCLC accession numbers to aid in edition identification and book location.
