Postwar History Education in Japan and the Germanys Julian Dierkes, 2010-12-14 How did East and West Germany and Japan reconstitute national identity after World War II Did all three experience parallel reactions to national trauma and reconstruction History education shaped how these nations reconceived their national identities Because the content of history education was controlled by different actors history education materials framed national identity in very different ways In Japan where the curriculum was controlled by bureaucrats bent on maintaining their purported neutrality materials focused on the empirical building blocks of history who where what at the expense of discussions of historical responsibility In East Germany where party cadres controlled the curriculum students were taught that World War II was a capitalist aberration In West Germany where teachers controlled the curriculum students were taught the lessons of shame and then regeneration after historians turned away from grand national narratives This book shows that constructions of national identity are not easily malleable on the basis of moral and political concerns only but that they are subject to institutional constraints and opportunities In an age when post conflict reconstruction and reconciliation has become a major focus of international policies the analysis offers important implications for the parallel revision of portrayals of national history and the institutional reconstruction of policy making regimes

Education Kristina Danielsson, Staffan Selander, 2021-06-30 This open access book provides an introduction to multimodality and the role of multimodal texts in today's education. Presenting a comprehensive framework for analysing and working with multimodal texts in disciplinary education, it serves as a tool for researchers and teachers alike. The second part of the book focuses on sample analyses of a variety of educational texts for different age groups and from different disciplines, including games and online resources. The authors also comment on the specific challenges of each text and how teachers can discuss such texts with their students to enhance both their understanding of the content and their multimodal literacy. The book is intended for researchers in fields like education and multimodal studies and for teacher educators regardless of school subject or age group. With the combined perspectives on text analysis and implications for education, the book addresses the needs of teachers who want to work with multimodal aspects of texts in education in informed ways but lack the right tools for such work.
