Kilio Cha Haki Mazrui:

Mwongozo wa Kilio cha Haki - A. Mazrui Kimani wa Njogu, 1989 State and Culture in Postcolonial Africa Tejumola Olaniyan, 2017-10-16 How has the state impacted culture and cultural production in Africa How has culture challenged and transformed the state and our understandings of its nature functions and legitimacy Compelled by complex realities on the ground as well as interdisciplinary scholarly debates on the state culture dynamic senior scholars and emerging voices examine the intersections of the state culture and politics in postcolonial Africa in this lively and wide ranging volume The coverage here is continental and topics include literature politics philosophy music religion theatre film television sports child trafficking journalism city planning and architecture Together the essays provide an energetic and nuanced portrait of the cultural forms of politics and the political forms of culture in contemporary Africa Mau Mau Crucible of War Nicholas K. Githuku, 2015-12-09 Mau Mau Crucible of War is a study of the social and cultural history of the mentalit of struggle in Kenya which reached a high water mark during the Mau Mau war of the 1950s but which continues to resonate in Kenya today in the ongoing demand for a decent standard of living and social justice for all This work catalyzes intellectual debate in various disciplines regarding not just the evolution of the Kenyan state but also the state in Africa It not only engages historians of colonial and postcolonial economic and political history but also sociologists anthropologists political scientists and those who study personality and social branches of psychology postcolonialism and postmodernity social movements armed conflict specialists and conflict resolution analysts Swahili Beyond the Boundaries Alamin M. Mazrui, Alamin Mazrui, 2007 Africa is a marriage of cultures African and Asian Islamic and Euro Christian Nowhere is this fusion more evident than in the formation of Swahili Eastern Africa s lingua franca and its cultures Swahili Beyond the Boundaries Literature Language and Identity addresses the moving frontiers of Swahili literature under the impetus of new waves of globalization in the twentieth and twenty first centuries These momentous changes have generated much theoretical debate on several literary fronts as Swahili literature continues to undergo transformation in the mill of human creativity Swahili literature is a hybrid that is being reconfigured by a conjuncture of global and local forces As the interweaving of elements of the colonizer and the colonized this hybrid formation provides a representation of cultural difference that is said to constitute a third space blurring existing boundaries and calling into question established identitarian categorizations This cultural dialectic is clearly evident in the Swahili literary experience as it has evolved in the crucible of the politics of African cultural production However Swahili Beyond the Boundaries demonstrates that from the point of view of Swahili literature while hybridity evokes endless openness on questions of home and identity it can simultaneously put closure on specific forms of subjectivity In the process of this contestation a new synthesis may be emerging that is poised to subject Swahili literature to new kinds of challenges in the politics of identity compounded by the dynamics and counterdynamics of post Cold War globalization Language in Contemporary African Cultures and Societies Leonard Muaka, Esther Mukewa

Art Culture and Society Vol 1 is the first in a series of books to be published by Twaweza Communications on the relationship between art and society with special reference to Kenya It is part of a cultural leadership initiative being undertaken by the organization through a reexamination of the arts as they are produced and studied This volume brings together important reflections on the arts and is a major step in encouraging dialogue on the relationship between creativity and the human condition in the region. Significantly, it creates a space for university-based academics to engage in dialogue with artists and writers based outside institutions of higher learning. The conversations will bridge the gap between the two domains for knowledge production and enrich creative enterprise in Kenya in theory and practice. As the essays in this collection show, the present global situation demands a way to conceptualise and theorise an ever-growing cultural interconnectedness, sometimes manifested in art and interconnectedness that draws from a myriad of cultures and experiences. Through the bridges of contact and cultural exchange, distant images are mediated and brought closer to us. They are reinterpreted and modified. In the final analysis, culture is shown to be an important aspect of human creativity, but separateness and boundedness is contested. Instead, culture is shown to be malleable and fluid. The essays bring in a new freshness to our reading of the creative arts coming out of Kenya.

Ong'wen: Stronger than Faith, 2023-06-27 Few events in Kenya's recent history have captured the imagination of the nation as those of the period from the late 1970s. Between the pages of this memoir is a history of that period which is hardly taught in our schools and is fast receding into the holes of the insignificant as a younger generation takes over. The history of that era, like that of all the eras that have made this country, needs to be preserved by those who witnessed and participated in it. In Stronger Than Faith, Oduor Ong'wen adds clarity to the politics of an important but dark era of our history. It adds clarity to why that era is not entirely gone.

Social Policy and Human Development in Zambia Ndangwa Noyoo, 2010-01-30 Social Policy And Human Development In Zambia discusses social policy and human development endeavours in Zambia, including the various societal forces that converged on the country in both the pre-colonial and colonial periods and which later influenced post-colonial social policy initiatives. The pre-colonial era epitomised indigenous forms of social protection that safeguarded the well-being of Africans. Colonial rule, which was foreign in orientation, was geared towards meeting the needs of a small European settler population through social policy programmes. Most of the discussions in the book unfold in the setting of a post-colonial society. The central thesis of the book is that social policy and human development in Zambia are inextricably bound up with the political and economic forces in the country and that they constantly reinforce each other. Politics is taken as an important variable that legitimises the role of politicians and policy makers in determining the development path of the country. Thus, their efficacy, lack of depth or ineptitude will be translated into the way public policies, including social policy, are formulated and implemented. Given the normative nature of social policy, it is argued that ideology plays a critical role in both its formulation and execution. This argument is brought home by showing how the socialist government in Zambia during the 1960s and 1970s relied upon ideology to marshal social policy towards the goal of national development. Based on the analyses of different political eras in the country, the book also argues that the economy is the central pillar in the implementation of social policy and the provision of social services.
