Natural Resource-Based Conflicts in Rural Zimbabwe Joshua Matanzima,Patience Chadambuka,Kirk Helliker,2024-08-02 This book investigates the range of conflicts over land and other natural resources in contemporary Zimbabwe considering the different forms these conflicts take and the ensuing outcomes Zimbabwe is a country rich in natural resources including land wildlife minerals and water resources These resources are integral to the formal and informal livelihoods of most Zimbabweans as well as supporting many key industries Wildlife land and water resources are also embedded in indigenous knowledge systems religious beliefs and rituals in many rural communities forming an important part of people s identity and sense of belonging However this book demonstrates the ways in which rural communities are being denied access to these resources and being displaced by extractive companies and the government Their response is often to turn to violence to try to reclaim their lands Drawing on original empirical research from different conflicts across Zimbabwe the book also considers the issue in the context of problems such as climate change human wildlife conflicts and politico economic crises This book will be useful to policy makers students conservationists and academics across the fields of sociology human geography development political science and environment studies

Complicity and Responsibility in Contemporary African Writing Minna Johanna Niemi,2021-05-03 This book investigates the many ways in which contemporary African fiction has reflected on themes of responsibility and complicity during the postcolonial period Covering the authors Ayi Kwei Armah Tsitsi Dangarembga Nuruddin Farah Michiel Heyns and J M Coetzee the book places each writer s novels in their cultural and literary context in order to investigate similarities and differences between fictional approaches to individual complicity in politically unstable situations In doing so the study focuses on these texts representations of discomfiting experiences of being implicated in harm done to others in order to show that it is precisely during times of political crisis that questions of moral responsibility and implicatedness in compromised conduct become more pronounced The study also challenges longstanding western amnesia concerning responsibility for historical and present day violence in African countries and juxtaposes this denial of responsibility with the western literary readership s consumption of narratives of African suffering The study instead proposes new reading habits based on an awareness of readerly complicity and responsibility Drawing insights from across political philosophy and literary theory this book will be of interest to researchers of African literature postcolonial studies and peace and conflict studies
