Teaching Writing Tessa Daffern, Noella M Mackenzie, 2020-07-25 In the 21st century writing is more important than at any other time in human history Yet much of the emphasis in schooling has been on reading and after the early years writing skills have been given less attention Internationally too many children are leaving school without the writing skills they need to succeed in life The evidence indicates that students rarely develop proficiency as writers without effective teacher instruction Teaching Writing offers a comprehensive approach for the middle years of schooling when the groundwork should be laid for the demanding writing tasks of senior school and the workplace Teaching Writing outlines evidence based principles of writing instruction for upper primary students and young adolescents It presents strategies that are ready for adoption or adaptation and exemplars to assist with designing and implementing writing lessons across the middle years of school It addresses writing from a multimodal perspective while also highlighting the importance of teaching linguistic aspects of text design such as sentence structure vocabulary and spelling as foundations for meaning making Contributors argue that students need to continue to develop their skills in both handwriting and keyboarding Examples of the teaching of writing across disciplines are presented through a range of vignettes Strategies for assessing student writing and for supporting students with diverse needs are also explored With contributions from leading literacy educators Teaching Writing is an invaluable resource for primary secondary and pre service teachers

Philosophy in schools in Australia dates back to the 1980s and is rooted in the Philosophy for Children curriculum and pedagogy Seeing potential for educational change Australian advocates were quick to develop new classroom resources and innovative programs that have proved influential in educational practice throughout Australia and internationally Behind their contributions lie key philosophical and educational discussions and controversies which have shaped attempts to introduce philosophy in schools and embed it in state and national curricula Drawing together a wide range of eminent scholars and practitioners in the field of educational philosophy this anthology the first of its kind provides not only a historical narrative but an opportunity to reflect on the insights and experiences of the authors that have made history The collection is divided into three parts The overarching theme of Part I is the early years of Philosophy for Children in Australia and how they informed the course that the philosophy in schools movement would take Part II focuses on the events and debates surrounding the development and production of new materials including arguments for and against the suitability of the original Philosophy for Children curriculum In Part III key developments relating to teaching philosophy in schools are analysed This collection of diverse views critical appraisals and different perspectives of historical currents is intended to stimulate thought provoking questions about theory and practice and to increase general awareness both nationally and internationally of the maturation of philosophy in schools in Australia It is also intended to encourage readers to identify emerging ideas and develop strategies for their implementation

Reading Success in the Primary Years Marleen F. Westerveld, Rebecca M. Armstrong, Georgina M. Barton, 2020-05-19 This open access book describes the Reading Success project in which a 5 step assessment to intervention process based on the Simple View of Reading was used within a primary school setting in Australia to better support those students who struggle with reading It provides an easily accessible overview of each step of the process involved in implementing this approach and highlights the crucial importance of collaboration between professionals involved in the teaching of reading within a school setting It focuses on the decision making processes used such as rich dialogue with the leadership team and teachers and shares participants perspectives gathered throughout the project Using case studies the book describes how the 5 step approach assists in creating detailed profiles of students strengths and weaknesses in spoken and written language skills that can be used to guide targeted intervention This book offers valuable insights for educators speech pathologists researchers and pre service teacher education students interested in the teaching of reading

Changing Australian Education Alan Reid,2020-07-28

Australian education policy for the past 40 years has been heading in the wrong direction and is entirely unsuitable for preparing young people for the 21st century Exaggeration Sadly not For a teacher there is nothing more exhilarating than encouraging young people to realise the power of learning But in our schools today teachers spend so much time preparing their students for high stakes tests gathering data and filling in forms that many of them feel like the life has been squeezed out of their role Schooling has been turned into a market and school leaders are forced to spend precious time and resources competing with other schools Their professional experience is disregarded as policy makers turn to the corporate world and self appointed commentators to determine curriculum and school funding The outcome Our schooling system is becoming more segregated children from poorer backgrounds are falling behind public schools are starved of funds and good teachers are leaving One of the most highly regarded educational leaders in Australia Alan Reid argues it s time to reconsider the purposes of education the capacities we need for the future and the strategies that will get us there He outlines a new narrative for Australian schooling that is futures focused and prizes flexibility adaptability collaboration and agility with students teachers and school communities at centre stage A provocative and persuasive argument for the necessity of a new narrative for Australian schooling so as to meet better the demonstrable demands of the twenty first century Emeritus Professor Bob Lingard The University of Queensland At the heart of the book is a penetrating critique of neoliberalism and the damaging effects it is having on education and society It should be essential reading for policy makers educators parents and anyone interested in the current state of Australian education Professor Barry Down Murdoch University

Literacy, Leading and Learning Debra Hayes,Robert Hattam,Barbara Comber,Lyn Kerkham,Ruth Lupton,Pat Thomson,2017-07-14
