Willett, 2000-06-01 Throughout the twentieth century beauty shops have been places where women could enjoy the company of other women exchange information and share secrets The female equivalent of barbershops they have been institutions vital to community formation and social change But while the beauty shop created community it also reflected the racial segregation that has so profoundly shaped American society Links between style race and identity were so intertwined that for much of the beauty shop s history black and white hairdressing industries were largely separate entities with separate concerns While African American hair care workers embraced the chance to be independent from white control negotiated the meanings of hair straightening and joined in larger political struggles that challenged Jim Crow white female hairdressers were embroiled in struggles over self definition and opposition to their industry s emphasis on male achievement Yet despite their differences black and white hairdressers shared common stakes as battles were waged over issues of work skill and professionalism unique to women s service work Permanent Waves traces the development of the American beauty shop from its largely separate racial origins through white recognition of the ethnic market to the present day Salon Fundamentals Cosmetology 3rd Edition Pivot Point International Staff, Beauty Salon Graham

Beautician Inspired is a non fiction approach to introducing children into the beauty industry Because the beauty world encompasses hobbies and careers in hair skin and nails the decision to become a part of it is fulfilling and rewarding In this book a sister and brother are eager to learn more about certified cosmetologists in the beauty industry Because beauty salons are considered the service sector of the beauty industry the mother creates a vision for the children to understand what cosmetologists do daily inside of salon settings The mother mentions the technical part of becoming a cosmetologist and the adventurous and creative side of it She ensures the children understands that a cosmetologist can take care of their clients from the top of their heads to the bottom of their feet Cosmetologists have a wide range of duties to perform depending on what type of salon setting and clients they choose to service The mom s intention is to allow the children s imagination to run wild in the same way as she describes the cosmetologists do To hear fun and exciting things to do in the beauty industry can possibly inspire children to explore career opportunities such as becoming a cosmetologist and enjoy the freedom passion and rewards that comes with it Moosetache Beauty Salon Book Margie Palatini, 2020-09 Salon
