Dominic Longo,2017-07-11 Spiritual Grammar identifies a genre of religious literature that until now has not been recognized as such In this surprising and theoretically nuanced study F Dominic Longo reveals how grammatical structures of language addressed in two medieval texts published nearly four centuries apart from distinct religious traditions offer a metaphor for how the self is embedded in spiritual reality Reading The Grammar of Hearts Nahw al qul b by the great Sufi shaykh and Islamic scholar Abd al Kar m al Qushayr d 1074 and Moralized Grammar Donatus moralizatus by Christian theologian Jean Gerson d 1429 Longo reveals how both authors use the rules of language and syntax to advance their pastoral goals Indeed grammar provides the two masters with a fresh way of explaining spiritual reality to their pupils and to discipline the souls of their readers in the hopes that their writings would make others adept in the grammar of the heart

Preaching the Crusades to the Eastern Mediterranean Constantinos Georgiou,2018-03-05 Preaching was an integral part of the crusade movement This book focuses on the efforts of the first four Avignon popes to organize crusade preaching campaigns to the Eastern Mediterranean and on the role of the secular and regular clergy in their implementation Historians have treated the fall of Acre in 1291 as an arbitrary boundary in crusader studies for far too long The period 1305 1352 was particularly significant for crusade preaching yet it has not been studied in detail This volume thus constitutes an important addition to the flourishing field of late medieval crusade historiography The core of the book deals with two interlocking themes the liturgy for the Holy Land and the popular response to crusade preaching between the papacies of Clement V and Clement VI The book analyses the evolving use of the liturgy for the crusade in combination with preaching and it illustrates the catalytic role of these measures in driving popular pro crusade sentiments A key theme in the account is the analysis of the surviving crusade sermons of the Parisian theologians from the era Critical editions of these previously neglected propagandistic texts are a valuable addition to our corpus of papal correspondence relating to the crusades in the later Middle Ages This book will be of interest both to specialized historians and to students of late medieval crusading
