Forest Genomics and Biotechnology Isabel Allona, Matias Kirst, Wout Boerjan, Steven Strauss, Ronald Sederoff, 2019-11-27 This Research Topic addresses research in genomics and biotechnology to improve the growth and quality of forest trees for wood pulp biorefineries and carbon capture Forests are the world's greatest repository of terrestrial biomass and biodiversity Forests serve critical ecological services supporting the preservation of fauna and flora and water resources Planted forests also offer a renewable source of timber for pulp and paper production and the biorefinery Despite their fundamental role for society thousands of hectares of forests are lost annually due to deforestation pests pathogens and urban development As a consequence there is an increasing need to develop trees that are more productive under lower inputs while understanding how they adapt to the environment and respond to biotic and abiotic stress Forest genomics and biotechnology disciplines that study the genetic composition of trees and the methods required to modify them began over a quarter of a century ago with the development of the first genetic maps and establishment of early methods of genetic transformation Since then genomics and biotechnology have impacted all research areas of forestry Genome analyses of tree populations have uncovered genes involved in adaptation and response to biotic and abiotic stress Genes that regulate growth and development have been identified and in many cases their mechanisms of action have been described Genetic transformation is now widely used to understand the roles of genes and to develop germplasm that is more suitable for commercial tree plantations However in contrast to many annual crops that have benefited from centuries of domestication and extensive genomic and biotechnology research in forestry the field is still in its infancy Thus tremendous opportunities remain unexplored This Research Topic aims to briefly summarize recent findings to discuss long term goals and to think ahead about future developments and how this can be applied to improve growth and quality of forest trees

de conductas adictivas Roberto Secades-Villa, Gloria García-Fernández, Sergio Fernández Artamendi, 2022-10-13 El campo de las conductas adictivas es un ámbito profesional de gran demanda y expansión entre los profesionales sanitarios y en especial entre los psicólogos. La relevancia del papel de la psicología viene avalada por la evidencia demostrada de la efectividad de las terapias psicológicas en el tratamiento de este tipo de problemas. Frente al reduccionismo biológico, la naturaleza esencial del modelo psicológico consiste en analizar y explicar las conductas adictivas en relación con el contexto como parte esencial de la concepción biopsicosocial que constituye hoy en día el marco predominante en el tratamiento de las conductas adictivas. Los tratamientos psicológicos de las conductas adictivas han tenido importantes avances en los últimos años y de ahí la necesidad de disponer de un manual en español que describa la situación actual en este ámbito de intervención. Este libro nace con la idea de aportar un análisis riguroso de este tipo de problemas basado en los datos que aporta la investigación y la práctica clínica. En esta obra, en oposición a lo que se acostumbra en este tipo de publicaciones, se ha optado por una exposición transversal adoptando un modelo transdiagnóstico organizando los capítulos en función de los procedimientos y no en relación con las sustancias, como si se tratara de fenómenos esencialmente diferentes. Este manual tiene una orientación didáctica y se ha escrito pensando en los estudiantes y en los profesionales de la psicología, aunque también es útil para otros especialistas de la salud que estén interesados en este tipo de problemas. La calidad científica de los contenidos del texto está acreditada por la participación de más de cuarenta excelentes expertos provenientes tanto del ámbito clínico como académico que proporcionan una visión rigurosa y actual acerca de los principales procedimientos de evaluación y tratamiento de los trastornos por uso de sustancias y de otras conductas adictivas. The Manual of Statistics, 1898
