Latest Opportunities In Saps2015:

Police Work and Identity Andrew Faull, 2017-09-07 This is a book about the men and women who police contemporary South Africa Drawing on rich original ethnographical data it considers how officers make sense of their jobs and how they find meaning in their duties It demonstrates that the dynamics that lead to police abuses and scandals in transitional and neo liberalising regimes such as South Africa can be traced to the day to day experiences and ambitions of the average police officer It is about the stories they tell themselves about themselves and their social worlds and how these shape the order they produce through their work By focusing on police officers this book positions the individual in primacy over the organisation asking what policing looks like when motivated by the pursuit of ontological security in precarious contexts It acknowledges but downplays the importance of police culture in determining officers attitudes and behaviour and reminds readers that most officers lives are entangled in and shaped by a range of social political and cultural forces It suggests that a job in the South African Police Service SAPS is primarily just that a job Most officers join the organisation after other dreams have slipped beyond reach their presence in the Service being almost accidental But once employed they re write their self narratives and enact carefully choreographed performances to ease managerial and public pressure and to rationalize their coercive practices In an era where evidence and what works reigns supreme and where cop culture is often deemed a primary socializing force this book emphasises how officers personal histories ambitions and vulnerabilities remain central to how policing unfolds on the street

Stirring Up Liberation Theologies Jione Havea, 2024-07-31 In this critical time in world history when many spirits and bodies are plagued by AIDS covid monkeypox hunger bird flu mad cow disease and other ailments and many communities are broken by wars juntas climate crises domestic abuse poverty and other shitstems this book stirs up the ends of Liberation Theology re l ease As long as the world is plagued and broken the re l ease that Liberation Theology seeks are needed Bringing together a diverse and global array of theologians who have taken up the liberative mantel this book will demonstrate why liberation theology today needs releasing from its illusions and assumptions and what comes next once it does so With contributors including Miguel A De La Torre Anna Kasafi Perkins and Michael Jaggesar the book demonstrates that Liberation Theology is not pass or dead But it needs some stirring up The

Handbook of Social Work and Social Development in Africa Mel Gray, 2016-10-26 All recent books on international social work mention Africa only briefly and few engage with the broader field of development studies This book focuses solely on the unique African context engaging with issues relating to social work and development more broadly thus enabling a deeper examination and more complex and nuanced picture to emerge Unlike most academic works this book highlights multiple practitioner voices with authors or co authors that have recently been or are currently practising social workers As an edited book it draws from both academic research as well as lived practice experience supported by strong theoretical positioning and guidance in introductory chapters drawing on African literature wherever possible Looking at case studies from Lesotho Botswana Kenya Zimbabwe Ethiopia Namibia Uganda Nigeria Kenya South Africa Rwanda Zambia and Tanzania and covering established areas of practice such as child protection working with older people working with people with disabilities mental health and mainstream services targeting women as well as emerging areas of developmental social work practice such as humanitarian assistance in post conflict situations work with immigrants and refugees and the training of community based workers this book takes a future oriented perspective that aims to move beyond well worn critiques to envision constructive and sustainable futures for social work and social development in Africa from a critical perspective

Police Integrity in South Africa Sanja Kutnjak Ivkovich, Adri Sauerman, 2020-04-29 Policing in South Africa has gained notoriety through its extensive history of oppressive law enforcement In 1994 as the country's apartheid system was replaced with a democratic order the new government faced the significant challenge of transforming the South African police force into a democratic police agency the South African Police Service SAPS that would provide unbiased policing to all the country's people More than two decades since the initiation of the reforms it appears that the SAPS has rapidly developed a reputation as a police agency beset by challenges to its integrity This book offers a unique perspective by providing in depth analyses of police integrity in South Africa It is a case study that systematically and empirically explores the contours of police integrity in a young democracy Using the organizational theory of police integrity the book analyzes the complex set of historical legal political social and economic circumstances shaping police integrity A discussion of the theoretical framework is accompanied by the results of a nationwide survey of nearly 900 SAPS officers probing their familiarity with official rules their expectations of discipline within the SAPS and their willingness to report misconduct The book also examines the influence of the respondents race gender and supervisory status on police integrity Written in a clear and direct style this book will appeal to students and scholars of criminology policing sociology political science as well as to police administrators interested in expanding their knowledge about police integrity and enhancing it in their organizations

New Public Management in Africa Benon C. Basheka, Lukamba-Muhiya. Tshombe, 2017-08-25 The administrative sciences have been dominated by a turn to managerial perspectives in the late 20th and early 21st centuries and in the spirit of this turn New Public Management or NPM promises to produce efficient responsible and client oriented public services The reforms carried out in the pursuit of New Public Management are often accompanied by great optimism and rapid enthusiastic steps toward implementation Even in highly developed industrial countries however these fundamental reforms often overlook the political and cultural contexts of the implementing country New Public Management in Africa Emerging Issues and Lessons provides much needed theoretical foundations for NPM reforms in the African context and reflects on the success of existing reforms in the development of several African states The individual contributions in this timely volume provide important analyses of academic discourse practical policy achievements and desiderata The book as a whole however provides a valuable impetus for public administration research in and on African states sharing findings on the results of reforms to date and adjustments required for these reforms to succeed For public administration researchers outside of Africa this book offers a review of New Public Management case studies that are unavailable or difficult to find elsewhere contributing much to the exchange between African and Western administration science research and demonstrating that African administrative research is well prepared to help resolve global challenges Policing and Boundaries in a Violent Society Guy Lamb,2022-01-31 This book explores how social and territorial boundaries have influenced the approaches and practices of the South Africa Police Service SAPS By means of a historical analysis of South Africa this book introduces a new concept police frontierism which illuminates the nature of the relationships between the police policing and boundaries and can potentially be used for future case study research Drawing on a wealth of research this book examines how social and territorial boundaries strongly influenced police practices and behaviour in South Africa and how social delineations amplify and distort existing police prejudices against those communities on the other side of the boundary Focusing on cases of high density police operations public order policing and the recent policing of the COVID 19 lockdown this book argues that poor economic conditions combined with an increased militarisation of the SAPS and a decline in public trust in the police will result in boundaries continuing to fundamentally inform police work in South Africa This book will be of interest to scholars and students interested in policing in post colonial societies characterised by high levels of violence as well as police work and police militarization

Becoming a Social Work Manager Angie Bartoli,2025-02-28 An innovative guide for social workers who are about to take the next step in their career to become a social work manager or who may have recently taken on that role Practitioners will learn how they can prepare for this transition how it really feels to be a manager and how to develop their professional identity Despite the interest in how social work roles are managed and led the actual experience of the transition to social work manager can be overlooked Many books written around this topic focus on the skills needed to be a manager management and organisational concepts rather than how it feels to go through the process and how to cope as a new manager This book draws on a relationship based model proposing that relationships play a significant part in the transition into management It emphasises the importance of how managers support their teams and individuals while also caring for themselves Based on research with newly promoted social work managers this book features in depth case studies which illustrate four significant points in the transitional journey preparation for the role multiple identities managing people and self care The concluding chapter offers a practical model that readers considering social work management can utilise within their own supervision or annual appraisal to support a smoother transition into management

A Handbook on Legal Languages and the Quest for Linguistic Equality in South Africa and Beyond Zakeera Docrat,Russell H Kaschula ,Monwabisi K Ralarala,2021-06-02 A Handbook on Legal Languages and the Quest for Linguistic Equality in South Africa and Beyond is an interdisciplinary publication located in the discipline of forensic linguistics language and law This handbook includes varying comparative African and global case studies on the use of language s in courtroom discourse and higher education institutions Kenya Morocco Nigeria Australia Belgium Canada and India These African and global case studies form the backdrop for the critique of the monolingual English language of record policy for South African courts the core of this handbook discussed in relation to case law and the beleaguered legal interpretation profession This handbook argues that linguistic transformation and decolonisation of South Africa s legal and higher education systems needs to be undertaken where legal practitioners are linguistically equipped to litigate in a bilingual multilingual courtroom that enables access to justice for the majority of African language speaking litigants enforcing their constitutional language rights
