Tedick, 2024-09-10 This book fills a large gap in our understanding of how to prepare teachers for the challenging but increasingly popular task of integrating content and language instruction It brings together findings on content based teacher education from Africa Asia Australia Europe and North America in order to inform researchers and teacher educators and enable them to play a critical role in the continued success of such programs It offers a solid grounding in theories and applications of content based approaches with empirical studies investigating teacher identity materials design use of cognitive discourse functions and best practices for teacher education Responding to the growing popularity of content based programs and the shortage of qualified teachers for these contexts this book promotes teacher researcher collaboration and provides support for trainee teachers in service teachers and course leaders

Covid-19 and beyond: From (forced) remote teaching and learning to 'the new normal' in higher education Rhoda Scherman, Gabriela Misca, David Ian Walker, Geneviève Pagé, 2023-03-29

The Status of Student Involvement in University Governance in Kenya Mulinge, Munyae M., Arasa, Josephine N., 2017-05-05 This book examines the concept of the democratization of governance in universities in Kenya with particular emphasis on students involvement in governance processes and decision making Data were collected from members of the student community utilizing a structured self administered questionnaire and from purposively selected key informants and focus group discussants drawn from Kenyatta University representing the public sector and the United States International University representing the private sector The guiding argument for the study was that shared governance one of the principles of good governance is critical in enabling the universities to deliver their visions and the missions effectively The results revealed that while in principle Kenyan universities have embraced democratic governance in which all stakeholders including students have a role to play in practice they continue to violate the core principles of good governance particularly shared governance Specifically students who are major stakeholders in university education are largely excluded from significant structures of governance thereby limiting their influence and participation Although their representation is mainly provided via student self governance organs unions associations and or councils their effectiveness is undermined considerably by the lack of trust and confidence of the student body and the unending manipulation by top university administrators and external political actors Student active involvement in decision making is mainly confined to lower levels such as the school faculty and departmental programme The authors call for a paradigm shift in the involvement of students in the governance of universities in ways that discourage the current culture of tokenism and political correctness that characterizes public and private universities in Kenya
