Narrative Stimulus Pictures:

Storytelling, Narrative, and the Thematic Apperception Test Phebe Cramer, 1996-05-03 This volume is about a particular kind of story telling Known as the Thematic Apperception Test TAT it is a systematic approach to story telling that provides clinicians with an effective method for investigating those original and highly personal themes that constitute the unique personality of each individual The first half of the book illuminates the meaning of narratives and the second half explores their implications for therapeutic understanding and treatment Topics covered include The history and development of the TAT The importance of context in storytelling How stories are transformed over time What narratives may reveal about personality organization How narratives may alter according to age gender or as a result of defense mechanisms The use of the TAT for research studies

Narrative Development in a Multilingual Context Ludo Th Verhoeven, Sven Strömqvist, 2001-01-01 In this volume the results of a number of empirical studies of the development of narrative construction within a multilingual context are presented and discussed It is explored what operating principles underlie the process of narrative production in L1 and L2 Developmental relations between form and function will be studied across a broad range of functional categories such as temporality perspective connectivity and narrative coherence Moreover a variety of language contact situations is considered with broad variation in the typological distances between the languages in order to enable cross linguistic comparison The analysis of learner data in various cross linguistic settings may thus offer new information on the role of the structural properties of unrelated languages on the process of narrative acquisition In the present volume an attempt is also made to find out how transfer from one language to the other is facilitated Finally the effects of input on narrative construction in children s first and second language are examined in several studies

Developing Narrative Comprehension Ute Bohnacker, Natalia Gagarina, 2020-12-15 Comprehension of texts and understanding of questions is a cornerstone of successful human communication Whilst reading comprehension has been thoroughly investigated in the last decade there is surprisingly little research on children s comprehension of picture stories particularly for bilinguals This can be partially explained by the lack of cross culturally robust cross linguistic instruments targeting early narration This book presents an inference based model of narrative comprehension and a tool that grew out of a large scale European project on multilingualism Covering a range of language settings the book uses the Multilingual Assessment Instrument for Narratives to answer the question which narrative comprehension skills bilingual children can be expected to master at a certain age and explores how such comprehension is affected or not affected by linguistic and extra linguistic factors Linking theory to method the book will appeal to researchers in linguistics and psychology and graduate students interested in narrative multilingualism and language acquisition

Assessing Multilingual Children Sharon Armon-Lotem, Jan de Jong, Natalia Meir, 2015-04-28 Second language learners often produce language forms resembling those of children with Specific Language Impairment SLI At present professionals working in language assessment and education have only limited diagnostic instruments to distinguish language impaired migrant children from those who will eventually catch up with their monolingual peers This book presents a comprehensive set of tools for assessing the linguistic abilities of bilingual children It aims to disentangle effects of bilingualism from those of SLI making use of both models of bilingualism and models of language impairment The book s methods oriented focus will make it an essential handbook for practitioners who look for measures which could be adapted to a variety of languages in diverse communities as well as academic researchers

Young L2 learners' narrative discourse Christine Möller, 2015-01-19 Empathy and Its Development Nancy Eisenberg, Janet Strayer, 1990-08-31 A study of empathy from developmental biological clinical social and historical perspectives covering topics such as developmental changes and gender differences in empathy the role of cognition in empathy the socialization of empathy its role in child abuse and the measurement of empathy

Sensory Stories for Children and Teens with Special Educational Needs Joanna Grace, 2014-10-21 Sensory Stories are an effective tool for teaching and communicating with children with PMLD autism and other special educational needs This useful book explains how sensory stimulation can aid development and provides a wealth of resources for using Sensory Stories at home in the classroom and advice on adapting and creating new stories

Discourse Analysis and Applications Ronald L. Bloom, Loraine K. Obler, Susan De Santi, Jonathan S. Ehrlich, 2013-06-17 Application of analytic discourse techniques to clinical practice is relatively recent This book s contributors begin with the notion that systematic examination of discourse provides a rich source of data for describing the complex relationships among language social context and the cognitive processes that underlie discourse comprehension and production Evidence is provided that when discourse is studied across different clinical populations analysis yields an optimal opportunity for developing dynamic models of brain and language that more thoroughly account for the complexity of language use in social contexts Accordingly studies presented in this volume have a dual focus to examine the implications of discourse research on neurolinguistic theories and to evaluate the contribution of discourse analysis to understanding the clinical status of patients with brain damage As such this volume reports patterns of preserved and impaired discourse behavior in normal adults and in different adult clinical populations It also describes numerous tasks designed to elicit a variety of discourse genres and a host of techniques created to describe how subjects order information and relate ideas across sentences In addition it includes numerous abstract units and linguistic devices targeted to examine those aspects of discourse that govern cohesion organization and topic manipulation This volume is unique because it presents both theoretical and clinical papers that examine a variety of communication pathologies Clinicians often report dissatisfaction with formal test batteries in that results are often at variance with clinical observation of performance in real life situations To address this concern this work proposes methods for examining discourse that move the examiner closer to naturalistic sampling The research presented demonstrates that discourse analysis provides clinically significant information that contributes to the understanding of the cognitive linguistic and social status of people with communication disorders These studies also offer a framework to support continuously evolving diagnostic and treatment paradigms for adults with neurological communication pathologies

Teaching New Literacies in Grades K-3 Barbara Moss,Diane Lapp,2009-11-30 Even the youngest readers and writers in today s classrooms can benefit enormously from engagement with a wide range of traditional and nontraditional texts This teacher friendly handbook is packed with creative strategies for introducing K 3 students to fiction poetry and plays informational texts graphic novels digital storytelling Web based and multimodal texts hip hop advertisements math problems and many other types of texts Prominent authorities explain the research base underlying the book s 23 complete lessons and provide practical activities and assessments for promoting decoding fluency comprehension and other key literacy skills Snapshots of diverse classrooms bring the material to life helpful reproducibles are included

Language Case Files in Neurological Disorders Louise Cummings,2021-08-30 This book features case studies of ten individuals with acquired neurological disorders These disorders have implications for speech language and communication but to date they have not been the focus of research in speech language pathology Chapters present a brief medical overview of each condition followed by detailed linguistic analysis A carefully assembled narrative captures the impact of each neurological disorder on an individual s daily life and social activities This structured approach supported by further reading and exercises gives readers a nuanced understanding of each disorder s clinical presentation and language and communication features and the complex interrelationship between language communication and cognitive and motor symptoms The book will be of interest to students of all levels researchers and clinicians in speech language pathology and related disciplines including neurology psychiatry and psychology

Agrammatic Aphasia Lise Menn,Loraine K. Obler,Gabriele Miceli,1990 This major reference work fills a need long recognized in neurolinguistics a source for analyzable speech transcripts from agrammatic aphasic patients that provides detailed grammatical descriptions and distributional analyses This 3 volume set is unique in that it presents narrative speech from carefully selected clinically comparable patients speakers of 14 languages and parallel narratives by normal speakers For each of the 14 languages there is a case presentation chapter analyzing and discussing the language of agrammatic patients followed by primary data which are organized as follows running text of speech by two patients interlinear morphemic translations of those texts running text of speech elicited from two normal control subjects plus interlinear translations tables and figures analyzing distributional properties of the patients speech results of comprehension tests of the patients transcriptions of patients oral reading and writing samples Neurological information is included with the case presentations and a short grammatical sketch of each language is added to make the work on all languages accessible even to those who only read English Language findings are presented for English Dutch German Icelandic Swedish French Italian Polish Serbo Croatian Hindi Finnish Hebrew Chinese and Japanese The book is an indispensable reference work for all linguists psycholinguists and neurolinguists who wish to test their theories against a massive body of data

Understanding Loss Judith Murray,2015-09-16 Loss and consequent grief permeates nearly every life changing event from death to health concerns to dislocation to relationship breakdown to betrayal to natural disaster to faith issues Yet while we know about particular events of loss independently we know very little about a psychology of loss that draws many adversities together This universal experience of loss as a concept in its own right sheds light on so much of the work we do in the care of others This book develops a new overarching framework to understand loss and grief taking into account both pathological and wellbeing approaches to the subject Drawing on international and cross disciplinary research Judith Murray highlights nine common themes of loss helping us to understand how it is experienced These themes are then used to develop a practice framework for structuring assessment and intervention systematically Throughout the book this generic approach is highlighted through discussing its use in different loss events such as bereavement trauma chronic illness and with children or older people Having been used in areas as diverse as child protection palliative care and refugee care the framework can be tailored to a range of needs and levels of care Caring for people experiencing loss is an integral part of the work of helping professions whether it is explicitly part of their work such as in counselling or implicit as in social work nursing teaching medicine and community work This text is an important guide for anyone working in these areas
