CASIO.

Important!

- When getting ready to receive time calibration signal, position the watch as shown in the nearby illustration, with its 12 o'clock side facing towards a window. This watch is designed to receive a time calibration signal late at night. Because of this, you should place the watch near a window or a screen in the illustration when you take it off at night. Make sure there are no metal objects nearby.

- Make sure the watch is facing the right way. Proper signal reception can be difficult or even impossible under the conditions listed below:

- Signal reception normally is better at night than during the day.
- Time calibration signal reception fails from 10 to 20 minutes. Take care that you do not perform any button operations or move the watch during this time.
- The time calibration signal the watch will attempt to pick up depends on its current Home City code setting as shown below.

Home City Codes and Transmitters

Home City Code	Transmitter	Frequency
HNL, ANIC, TYRL, LAAX, PEA, DEN, MEOL, TYOL, CHL, MIA, YTO, NYC, YHZ, YYT	Front Collins, Colorado (the United States)	600.0 MHz
LGL, LOR, MAAD, PAUL, ROM, BEER, STO, JATP, MOCH	Antwerp (Belgium)	600.0 MHz

* The areas covered by the HNL, ANIC, ATW, and MEOL city codes are quite far from the time calibration signal transmitters, and so certain conditions may cause problems with signal reception.

Approximate Reception Range

UKL signal transmission approximate reception range as of April 2007

U.S.L signal transmission approximate reception range as of April 2007

- Signal reception may not be possible at the distances listed below during certain times of the year or day. Radio interference may also cause problems with reception. *Antwerp (Belgium) reception range: 5000 meters (~1.000 Kilometers). Front Collins (United States) reception range: 6000 meters (~1.400 Kilometers).
- In April 2007, the UKL signal transmitter was moved from Flugby to Antwerp, which resulted in a slight shift in the approximate reception range of the signal. The shift is so slight that there is virtually no change in the ability to receive the signal.
- Even with the shift, the width of the reception range of a transmitter, signal reception may still improve at certain other times of the year. For example, after the summer solstice, the season of the year, the time of day, media interference, etc. Note that the signal becomes weaker at distances of approximately 3000 kilometers from the transmitter, which means that the influence of the conditions listed above becomes much greater.

About Auto Reception

The watch receives the time calibration signal automatically up to six times a day. When any auto reception is successful, the remaining auto reception operations are not performed. The reception schedules (calibration times) depends on your currently selected Home City, and whether constant time or Daylight Saving Time is selected for your Home City.

Note

- When a calibration time is reached, the watch will receive the calibration signal only if it is in either the Timelkeeping Mode or World Time Mode. Reception is not performed if it is in another time zone or if it is in another mode you are not currently using.
- If one of the calibration times is missed while you are performing a function on the watch, when you stop (press and hold the Timekeeping Mode key), the Timekeeping Mode timer is set correctly. Before going to bed for that night, remove the watch from your wrist, and put it in a location where it can receive the signal safely.
- The watch requires the calibration signal for two to seven minutes everyday when performing auto reception. Make sure there are no calibration times on after any one of the calibration times. Doing so can interfere with correct calibration.
- Remember that reception of the calibration signal depends on the current display shown, any one of the calibration times, regardless of whether or not the displayed time zone is the correct time.
- Calibration signal reception is disabled while a countdown timer operation is in progress.

About the Receiving Indicator

The receiving indicator shows the strength of the calibration signal being received. For best reception, be sure to keep the watch in a location where signal strength is strongest.

Receiving indicator

- Even in an area where signal strength is strong, it takes about 10 seconds for signal reception to stabilize enough for the receiving indicator to indicate signal strength.
- Use the receiving indicator as a guide for checking signal strength and for finding the best location for the watch during signal reception operations.
- Following reception of the time calibration signal and calibration of the watch's timer, the Level 3 receiving indicator appears on the display in all modes. The Level 3 receiving indicator may not be displayed if signal reception was unsuccessful or when you adjust the current time setting manually.
- The Level 3 receiving indicator is displayed only when the watch is able to receive both time and date data successfully. It does not appear when only time data is received.
- The Level 3 receiving indicator indicates that at least one of the auto-reception signal reception operations was successful. Note, however, that the Level 3 receiving indicator is cleared from the display when the first auto receive operation of the day is performed.

To perform manual reception

- Place the watch on a stable surface so its top (12 o'clock side) is facing towards a window.
- In the Timelkeeping Mode, hold down (C) for about two seconds until PRST appears on the display.
- The display shows the date and time for two to three minutes. Take care not to perform any button operations or move the watch during this time.
- After signal reception is complete, the display of the watch changes to the Last Signal screen.

Mode

- To interrupt a receive operation and return to the Timelkeeping Mode, press (C).
- To cancel an operation in progress, press (C) again. The display returns to the mode for about one or two minutes. After that, the watch returns to the Timelkeeping Mode.
- When each auto changes from the Last Signal or EOPR screen to the normal timelkeeping screen (pressing (C)).
- Calibration signal reception is disabled while a countdown timer operation is in progress.

To turn auto receiver on and off

- In the Timelkeeping Mode, press (C) to display the Last Signal screen.
- Hold down (C) until the receiving indicator and count down to the receiving time (e.g., 10:58 or 12:03) start to flash.
- Note that the display screen will not appear if the currently selected Home City is one that does not support time calibration reception.
- Press (C) to toggle auto receive on (ON) and off (OFF).

- Press (C) to exit the setting screen.
- For information about city codes that support signal receive, see "To specify your Home City".

To display the Last Signal screen

In the Timelkeeping Mode, press (C) to display the Last Signal screen (indicated by LAST). The Last Signal screen shows the date and time of the last successful time calibration signal reception.
