

Project Progress Report

Application for Interactive LED Visualization

Hayden Gomes

CSE 237D

Background

The University of California, San Diego's (UCSD) Computer Science and Engineering (CSE) department building was constructed in 2005. The architects who designed this state-of-the-art teaching and research facility designed the building with a unique look and feel. Along these lines, they designed the floor plan of the building to be shaped like a foot. In the "big toe" of the building, the architects included tri-color LED fixtures. These iColor Cove fixtures, usually found in theater lighting systems and clubs, are the first model in a successful line of lights by Color Kinetics. With seventy fixtures lining the large windows on each floor of the big toe, these LEDs are able to fill the room with colorful ambient light.

Each fixture can be independently set to one of 16.7 million additive RGB colors through DMX-S12 signaling protocol. However, since the building was completed access to these fixtures has been limited to a panel on each floor that can execute up to eight preprogrammed light shows. Also, because the big toe rooms have restricted access and the LEDs are most observable at night, there is little opportunity for students to use them.

During the fall of 2009 I worked with Catherine Wah and Emmett McQuinn on a group project for our compilers class (CSE231). The project goals were to develop a simple language for programming light shows and the software for compiling the language and displaying the results in a simulator or on the LED fixtures in the big toe. The project concluded with a successful demonstration of programs developed in our language being compiled and displayed on one floor of the big toe.

Project Goal

The goal of this project is to develop a method for students to remotely control the big toe LEDs, increasing their overall accessibility and mindshare. This will be done by building on the compilers project from the fall quarter. I will create an application for Google's Android OS that will allow users to write programs in our language and then send them to a web server that will compile and execute the programs, displaying them on the big toe fixtures. Additionally, if this goal is completed in a timely fashion, the application will be expanded to include a method of manually controlling the fixtures and a simulator to allow users to view a visualization of their program before submitting it to the server.

Engaging in Social Interventions (Volume 1) Rajalakshmi Sriram,2014-01-01 Engaging in Social Interventions by Professor Rajalakshmi Sriram is a product of her years of involved sensitive and empathetic engagement in the field as a highly competent scholar and professional. The book provides a roadmap to fieldwork in social settings by presenting a balanced blend of theoretical exposition and inputs for practicum. The book sets a benchmark for competent scholarship and presents its content in an extremely well organized manner for those students and professionals who are seeking to engage in meaningful social intervention in a variety of institutional, community, and family settings as well as for their supervisors and mentors. Besides helping one understand the nature of fieldwork and one's role as a professional, the book also helps in understanding communication issues, tools, and methods, planning, implementation, and reporting. Further, it guides aspiring social intervention professionals in developing self-awareness and reflective skills and in transitioning to competence. The book is so comprehensive in its coverage that it leaves very little untouched for the inquisitive and apprehensive learner about entering complex field settings and confronting the diverse challenges that such settings entail. Typical FAQs are addressed, and the book proves to be a lucid, easily readable, one-stop resource that is conducive and motivational for learning. A great value addition comes in the form of boxes, figures, and exercises constructed from reflections of experts. These are based on their experience and provide useful insights for effectively navigating one's learning path.

The need for a human-orientated approach to urbanism is well understood, and yet all too often this dimension remains lacking in urban design. In this book, the authors argue for and develop socially restorative urbanism, a new conceptual framework laying the foundations for innovative ways of thinking about the relationship between the urban spatial structure and social processes to reintroduce a more explicit people-centred element into urban place making and its adaptation. Focusing on this interplay between humans and the built environment, two new concepts are developed: the transitional edge, a socio-spatial concept of the urban realm, and Experiemics, a participative process that acts to redress imbalances in territorial relationships defined in terms of the awareness of mine, theirs, ours, and yours. MTOY. In this way, Socially Restorative Urbanism shows how professional practice and community understanding can be brought together in a mutually interdependent and practical way. Its theoretical and practical principles are applicable across a wide range of contexts concerning human benefit through urban environmental change and experience, and it will be of interest to readers in the social sciences and environmental psychology as well as the spatial planning and design disciplines.
